SUBJECT: NO KINGS ORGANIZATION (NKO) NATIONWIDE PROTESTS 18 OCTOBER 2025, SPECIAL ATTENTION FAIRFAX COUNTY VA

CAVEAT: THIS INTELLIGENCE PRODUCT RELIES ON OPEN-SOURCE MEDIA OR GOVERNMENT RELEASED UNCLASSIFIED INFORMATION. RECOMMENDED ACTIONS ARE INCLUDED FOR CLIENTS FOR INFORMATION AND ACTIONS DEEMED APPROPRIATE.

COLLECTION DATE 9 OCT 2025

CUT OFF DATE 15 OCT 2025

CHURCH THREAT LEVEL: HIGH

In Obscura assesses with HIGH confidence that violence is probable during No Kings Day, 18 Oct 2025. This is assessed through OSINT on-going collection regarding the heightened and evolving guerilla warfare inside the United States. The primary motive for this threat warning is for Christian Churches and related organizations, Clergy and Christians as specifically targeted or targets of opportunity.

SYNOPSIS

Anti-Trump rallies are scheduled for Saturday, October 18, 2025, in all 50 states at over 2,500 community events, which have been dubbed “No Kings” protests. The event’s organizer, Indivisible, is calling it “the biggest day of peaceful protest in modern U.S. history.” The “pro-democracy” demonstrations are organized by Indivisible (indivisible.org), a progressive grassroots movement, and a coalition of partners including: the ACLU, American Federation of Teachers, Common Defense, 50501, Human Rights Campaign, League of Conservation Voters, MoveOn, National Nurses United, Public Citizen, SEIU, and United We Dream.

“...Together, millions will send a clear and unmistakable message: We are a nation of equals, and our country will not be ruled by fear or force...” No Kings organizers said in a statement emailed to Fast Company. “...As the president escalates his authoritarian power grab, [our] nonviolent movement continues to rise stronger. We are united once again to remind the world: America has No Kings, and the power belongs to the people...”

Organizers estimate millions of Americans will turn out, building on the momentum of the first No Kings protests in June, which drew over 5 million people.

Accordingly, among mounting calls for calls for escalation, although carefully written, this one is of interest on at least one anarchist website, The message is a legally guarded call for violence:

To face down Donald Trump’s power grab and his terror campaign targeting “antifa,” we need everyone, of all walks of life, to proclaim that opposition to fascism is both laudable and urgent. We must contribute to a ferment that brings together everyone from the fiercest participants in the George Floyd revolt to the retirees that protested at Tesla outlets last spring...

We have arrived at this crisis because capitalism has concentrated so much power in the hands of the extremely wealthy that the entire social order has become unstable. This is not just about a single authoritarian politician—to get out of this mess, we will have to enact social change on a larger scale than any of us have seen in our lifetimes. Yet that same instability gives more people a stake in that change than ever before. The stakes are high, but together, we can rise to the opportunity...

...teaching people about how to resist ICE or practice proper security culture or engage in direct action planning. If there are more of you, you could invite them to a subsequent protest, or a mutual aid event, or a community assembly about how to organize collective defense. The idea is to see them again in an environment that will enable you to build political affinity together—or at least determine the extent to which you share it—without taking any needless risks that could expose you to agents provocateurs...If your community already has an announcements-only Signal loop for rapid response organizing...”

Churches, Clergy and Christians remain justified, symbolic, and pragmatic targets, either specific of targets of opportunity during revolutionary violence such as the historic church in DC during the Summer of Love-Floyd Riots (guerilla warfare).

ANALYSIS

In Obscura assesses with HIGH confidence that anarchist direct-action violence ranging from escalating verbal vitriol, potential counter demonstrations, and assaults to anarchist deployment of tactical violence cannot be ruled out. Based on analysis of cited and other sources identified in this warning document, at the very least, one group provides operational support if not intelligence and targeting, Antifaschiste Aktion.

As cited in this and prior intelligence products, Mutual Aid is an axis front for the combined communist, jihadist, Red Green Alliance. This alliance has and will continue operating a leftist anarchist revolution inside the US and Europe. No Kings is simply a deployment of this effort as well as anti-immigration and the escalating guerilla war in that effort. Media reporting is continual with increasing guerilla tactics deployed (firearms, tactical ambush. Vehicle ramming, arson among them). Churches have suffered increasing similar attacks.

The media propaganda across the journalist and social media spectrum involved in the forthcoming Virginia elections next month and the anti-ICE operations in the DMV, and the current dormant status of the local county elements of Students for Justice in Palestine among similar groups here area have piqued the threat assessment to HIGH.

As for No Kings Day and the threat environment already prevailing, churches, clergy, congregations must, must elevate situational awareness and adept detection and reporting of suspicious activities and anomalies.

Attached screen prints of the organization website showing eight (8) protest locations close in to the church for Saturday Oct 18, 2025. Video interview SME journalist Andy Ngo. I do not fully concur with his analysis in that No Kings is an anarchist group.

“Antifa will be embedded within "No Kings" protests: Andy Ngo | America Right Now”

Cited source (indivisible.org) below provides a very carefully written, yet activating public statement regarding motive and intent, despite a cleansing statement on the site legally insulating policy of non-violence. There is no qualified statement or policy of no association with know foreign intelligence controlled anarchist groups.

Indivisible, on its website, provides an engineered and carefully legal outward statement:

“...Why we’re here: Indivisible was founded in response to Trump’s election - but we know that Trump is a symptom of a sick democracy, not its cause. We face two fundamental problems: first, our democracy was rigged from the start in favor of the white and wealthy. Second, in the last few decades, an alliance of white nationalists and the ultra-rich have been actively working to further undermine democracy and cement their hold on power permanently. That’s how we ended up with Trump. We have to build a democracy that reflects a broad, multiracial “we the people,” one that works for all of us and is sustained by all of us. Only then will we be able to achieve a progressive vision for our future. How we win Defeating a multi-decade right-wing takeover of American government ain’t easy. But we’re here to win, and we have a plan. Here’s how we’re doing it...”

In the days leading up to the June 14 protests, flyers emerged online, distributed by anonymous Antifa-linked accounts on social media, urging participants to engage in illegal behavior.

These flyers were bilingual, printed in English and Spanish, and made available as downloadable PDFs for mass printing and distribution. They called for active resistance to law enforcement, citing previous riots in Los Angeles as models to emulate. These were not random provocations. They were premeditated directives. The fact that such materials were circulated in conjunction with 'No Kings' branding indicates that the movement's identity was being intentionally co-opted, or more plausibly, was designed to accommodate such co-optation from the outset.

Indivisible has tried to maintain the fiction that it is committed to nonviolence. Their official press guidance states that "a core principle behind all No Kings events is a commitment to nonviolent action." But this disavowal collapses under scrutiny. A group deeply committed to nonviolence does not conscript anarchist terminology, does not coordinate with Antifa-aligned activists, and does not release rally planning materials into the same ecosystem where Molotov-throwers congregate.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Threat warning is provided for the next iteration No Kings Day slated for 18 Oct 25 nationwide. Focus of this warning is for churches, clergy, and congregations in the Northern Virginia operational area, specific to Fairfax County. This is a warning driven by analysis of anarchist and activist organizations and personalities linked with NKO through the recent leftist anarchist alliances known as Mutual Aid²
- Previous In Obscura reporting has included actual target surveillance of churches in pre-attack intelligence collection operations. These are unlimited in number because most churches did not detect these operations, untrained, soft targets abound. It is therefore VITAL that churches increase situational awareness and spotting, and reporting of potential risks.
- In the IMAGERY section of this Threat Warning below, is a mobile phone video link and screen captures, one of three aggravated tense encounters with the same female at the Burke Lake Farmers Market, Fairfax County, Virginia. Posted on Facebook in an unidentified date, a female verbally assaults and moves within striking distance, threatening, and using profanity against the President and claims to be Antifa leader.
- Avoid all identified areas of all protests. Monitor local radio news and scanner apps of available. Maintain casual situational awareness in shopping and outdoor activities. This includes your homes, neighborhoods.
- In church and worship activities that weekend, not just the day of protest, based on the In Obscura HIGH Threat assessment, a high observation level, surveillance, and detection of actual or perceived surveillance must be reported. Attending activity at church and its property, external and internal activity must be continuous.

Mutual aid has been in the spotlight recently in light of the current crisis, but what exactly does it mean? And what makes it a powerful form of anarchist praxis unique from charity and volunteering? Well, 'mutual aid' is essentially the very radical notion that co-operation, rather than competition, is what drives communities forward. It is the most practical expression of solidarity, aiming for everyone to be taken care of, incentivizing but never expecting reciprocity. It is decentralized and grassroots, relying on the collective skills, resources and efforts of the community rather than state intervention or making demands. (Unoffensive Animal organization)

Anti-Trump ‘No Kings’ rallies to return to Fairfax County tomorrow

Hundreds of Fairfax County residents are expected to hit the streets tomorrow (Saturday) as part of a nationwide protest movement opposing the Trump administration.

Though the main event will take place at noon near the National Mall in D.C., a dozen rallies are also planned across the county for this year’s second “No Kings Day of Action,” many of them organized by local chapters of the grassroots, liberal activist network Indivisible.

Decrying “the increasing authoritarian excesses and corruption of the Trump administration,” national organizers anticipate that participation in tomorrow’s protests will surpass the over 5 million people who reportedly took part in the first “No Kings” rallies on June 14.

Those demonstrations, including ones in Fairfax, Arlington and Alexandria, emerged in response to a military parade held in D.C. for the U.S. Army’s 250th anniversary, which happened to coincide with President Donald Trump’s birthday.

Indivisible of Franconia, which formed in May and recently protested deportation flights from Dulles Airport, says it expects to draw as many as 500 participants tomorrow after more than 400 people attended its first rally in June.

The group’s rally will take place from 10 a.m. to noon along South Van Dorn Street between Kingstowne Village Parkway and Kingstowne Blvd.

“Our peaceful day of action brings together local residents of all walks of life who share a simple message: We don’t ‘do’ kings in America,” Indivisible of Franconia co-founder Erica Sorohan said. “We are making it clear to the Administration and to elected officials that what’s happening in America today is not normal, nor should it be.”

Among other issues also highlighted by national organizers, Sorohan said she’s concerned by the Trump administration’s aggressive targeting of immigrants, funding and staffing cuts that are “gutting health care, environmental protections and education,” and policies like tariffs that are “driving up the cost of living” even after Congress passed a bill extending tax cuts that favor the wealthy and corporations.

Organizers of a separate rally in Springfield say they’re “a group of seniors appalled at the actions of the current administration, especially its disregard for the rule of law and actions suppressing free speech.”

Set for 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., the Springfield protest will involve participants walking to the northeast corner of the Franconia-Springfield Parkway intersection with Spring Village Drive.

“We believe action by the people is necessary to prevent dictatorship, destruction of our democratic government and mass suffering,” organizers said on their event page.

Bailey’s Crossroads Indivisible plans to highlight the neighborhood’s religious diversity with its rally at 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. near the Giant Food at 3480 South Jefferson Street. The group drew approximately 600 people for its first “No Kings” protest in June.

“This time, bring your ‘No More Kings’ signs. But just as important, we invite you to stress a positive slogan: “Indivisible, We Love Our Neighbors!” the event page says. “Most of the major religions are represented in this neighborhood and virtually all religions have loving or caring for neighbor as a major tenet.”

Other locations in Fairfax County that will host “No Kings” rallies tomorrow include:

- Annandale: Audrey Moore Rec Center (8100 Braddock Road), 10 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
- Fairfax City: Main Street and Fairfax Blvd, 9-11 a.m.
- Fair Lakes: Fair Lakes Parkway and Fair Lakes Circle, 9:30-11:30 a.m.
- Fort Hunt: Alexandria Avenue’s Stone Bridge over the GW Parkway, no time listed, though the event page says it’s at capacity
- Herndon: Meeting at the Herndon Metro station for a train ride into D.C., 10 a.m.
- McLean: McLean Central Park (1468 Dolley Madison Blvd), noon-1:30 p.m.
- Reston: Reston Parkway and Bowman Towne Drive, 4-5 p.m.

"No Kings" is a surrender to Marxists and Left-wing extremists.

It's leaders:

- are more sympathetic to CCP-backed Marxists than Dem political leadership
- associate with accounts celebrating political violence
- associate with adversaries

These connections fall under NSPM7

No Kings and the Dems' Surrender to Communism

Investigating the social media of 50501 - a key organizer of "No Kings" protests - shows

- widespread connections to communist groups
- stronger connections to radicals than to the Left's mainstream

STATEMENT RE: SPEAKER JOHNSON COMMENTS ON NO KINGS

Washington, D.C. – Today, House Speaker Mike Johnson blamed the peaceful No Kings Day of Action on October 18 for the ongoing government shutdown. After a few moments of laughter, the No Kings coalition issued the following statement:

"Speaker Johnson is running out of excuses for keeping the government shut down. Instead of reopening the government, preserving affordable healthcare, or lowering costs for working families, he's attacking millions of Americans who are peacefully coming together to say that America belongs to its people, not to kings.

"We'll see everyone on October 18."

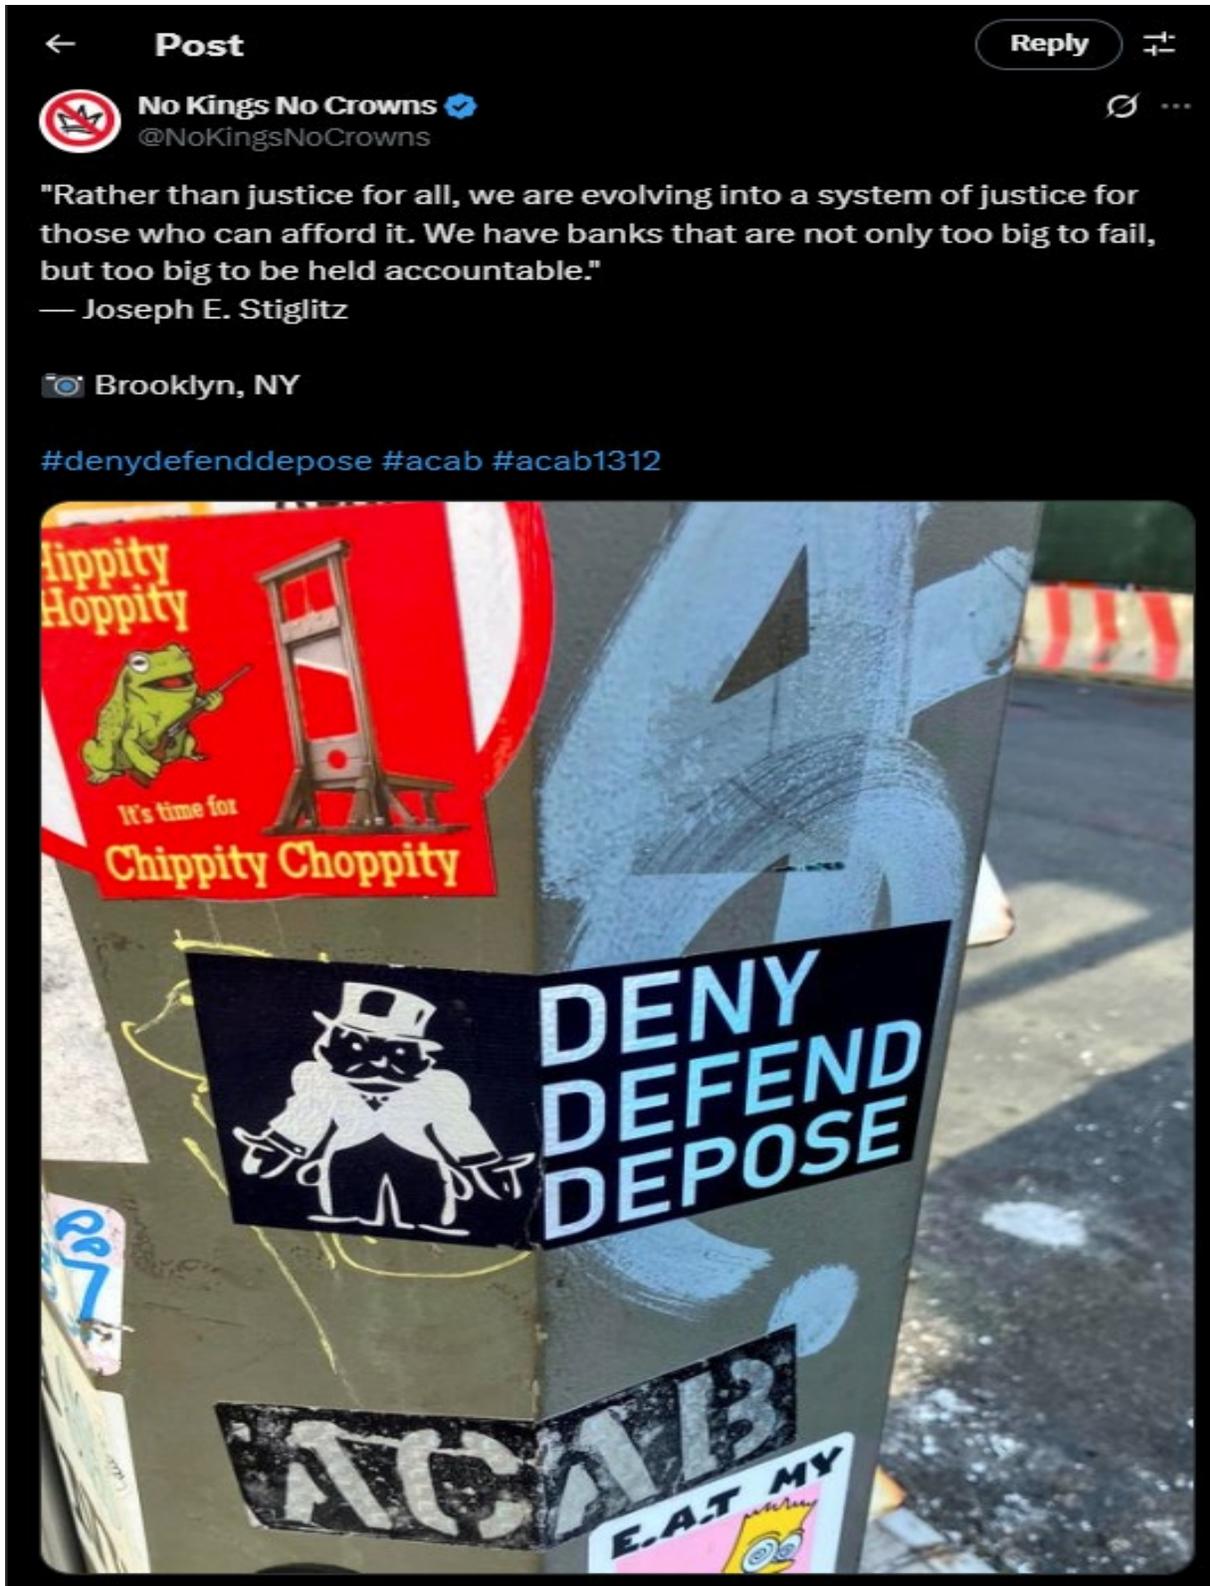

All No Kings events adhere to a shared commitment to nonviolent protest and community safety. Organizers are trained in de-escalation and are working closely with local partners to ensure peaceful and powerful actions nationwide.

The image is a screenshot of a tweet from George Conway (@gtconway3d). The tweet text reads: "The original #NoKings protest was 250 years ago. We've had democracy since then. Now we have a would-be king who wants to take it away— King Donald the First. Fuck that. We're rising up again, this time nonviolently, raising our voices to declare: 'No Kings.' Stand up and be counted in the nationwide No Kings protest on October 18." Below the text is a link to nokings.org. The tweet includes a video player showing a man speaking in front of a window with blinds. A "NO KINGS" logo is visible in the top right of the video frame. The video player interface shows a play button, a progress bar at 0:02 / 0:58, and various control icons. At the bottom left of the tweet, it shows the time "3:51 PM" and the date "Oct 11, 2025" along with "521K Views".

Caltrops - meant to disable a vehicle.

For those of you who don't know CK's history, she's a top tier enemy of Antifa for some reason. What's odd is that even though she's west coast, the Philadelphia Communist Party/Antifa has taken particular interest in her also.

This stuff is real friends. You need to take a hard look at your pattern of life and guard yourself from these freaks. If they will deliberately disable your vehicle, they absolutely will take the next step.

Antifa has been designated a terror organization now - contact both local and federal authorities. In a place like Oregon, the Feds are probably your only option.

My truck had a flat tire this afternoon. This is what was stuck in it. Another one of these is what flattened my SUV tire. Two of these were not randomly in my driveway. Anyone know anything about these?

About Support the Movement October 18th Protest

No Kings Day Protest - October 18, 2025

Reclaiming Democracy, Rejecting Authoritarianism

On Saturday, October 18, 2025, people across the United States will mobilize again for No Kings, a nationwide, nonviolent day of action to defend democratic norms and reject authoritarianism. Organizers have announced hundreds of coordinated events across all 50 states, with more being added daily.

Event Details

Date: Saturday, October 18, 2025

Time: Varies by location (typically late morning to early afternoon)

Locations: Hundreds of cities nationwide

Find an event near you: mobilize.us/nokings

Why We're Protesting

The No Kings movement stands against the glorification of authoritarian displays and the erosion of democratic values. We believe that power resides with the people, not with a singular authority.

This day of action is about promoting unity and encouraging citizens from all backgrounds to stand together against threats to democracy.

"In America, we don't do kings. On October 18th, we're showing up to say no thrones, no crowns, no kings."

How to Participate

- Find an event: mobilize.us/nokings
- Prepare your message: Create signs, wear t-shirts, be heard.
- Stay informed: Follow your local organizers for updates.

By participating, you're joining a collective stand against authoritarianism and affirming the principles of democracy.
