CHURCH THREAT LEVEL – URGENT

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The following two threat indicators of operational tempo escalation are forwarded for briefings to clergy, staff, and security as actionable intelligence from which increased security countermeasures and immediate liaison with law enforcement is warranted. The first shared OSINT is from Raymond Ibrahim, a vetted source for foreign insurgent action combined with his subject matter expertise of The Crusades. The targets remain the same, kill Christianity. Twitter posts below evidence escalation with direct threats, then atmospherics and sentiment of the sources.

Prior IN OBSCURA threat intelligence products have established on going insurgent target intelligence and surveillance of Christian equity over a protracted time period, including the recent terrorist attack on the Cities Church in Saint Paul, Missouri, complete with calls for more attacks on Christians. Several of the Twitter posts are from my account sharing others.

INOBSCURA'S "threat intelligence" mission focuses on several confidential intelligence collection requirements to provide indications and warning to clients, focusing on innovative and proactive tactics, techniques, and procedures, lacking in the protection of Christians. Fully adept in the targeting of Christians BUT using only the examples found in open media (unclassified) reporting, INOBSCURA warns for readiness to defend Christians from known, unknown and unexpected risks, BEFORE THE THREAT HAS GAINED ACCESS TO THE TARGET. In Obscura provides this "Left of Boom" strategy gained from decades' working experience. Further to enhance INOBSCURA emphasis, this reporting below, the author adeptly includes reporting on attacks inside the U.S. which INOBSCURA prior to its incorporation and recently posted as an INOBSCURA Intelligence analysis product.

The following are among the abuses and murders inflicted on Christians by Muslims throughout the month of November 2025.

The Muslim Slaughter of Christians

Nigeria: U.S. President Donald Trump announced that Nigeria will be designated a Country of Particular Concern (CPC) under the International Religious Freedom Act.

He cited the relentless persecution and mass killing of Christians by Muslim extremists, adding that “radical Islamists are responsible for this mass slaughter,” as thousands of Christians continue to be murdered, kidnapped, and displaced while Nigerian authorities largely fail to hold perpetrators accountable. Proponents say that “a Country of Particular Concern designation could significantly improve the lives of many Christians in Nigeria by raising awareness of the ongoing persecution and exerting pressure on the Nigerian government to take action.” Trump had designated Nigeria as a CPC in 2020. President Joe Biden removed the designation for unknown reasons in 2021.

Hours after Trump’s announcement, Islamic Fulani, continuing as usual, carried out coordinated nighttime attacks, slaughtering at least another 17 Christians on the Plateau-Kaduna border. Many of those killed were women and children who had gathered for a night vigil ahead of Sunday service. Trump responded by threatening to halt all aid to and possibly launch direct military action against Nigeria:

“If the Nigerian Government continues to allow the killing of Christians, the U.S.A. will immediately stop all aid and assistance to Nigeria, and may very well go into that now disgraced country, “guns-a-blazing,” to completely wipe out the Islamic Terrorists who are committing these horrible atrocities. I am hereby instructing our Department of War to prepare for possible action. If we attack, it will be fast, vicious, and sweet, just like the terrorist thugs attack our CHERISHED Christians! WARNING: THE NIGERIAN GOVERNMENT BETTER MOVE FAST!”

Between Nov. 1 and 2, Fulani terrorists slaughtered seven more Christians, some in their beds.

On Nov. 6, the Muslim herdsmen launched more attacks in the middle of the night, killing another 15 Christians as they slept in their beds. “Our peaceful home, where we enjoyed all the comforts, has been turned into a den of armed bandits,” said one local.

On Nov. 12, Muslim terrorists abducted seven Christians, including women and children.

On Nov 18, Muslim terrorists attacked a Christ Apostolic Church in Kwara state, killing three worshippers and abducting several others, including the pastor.

On Friday, Nov. 21, Islamic gunmen stormed a Catholic school in Niger State and kidnapped at least 227 Christian children and their teachers. The report adds, “Other attacks this week include the kidnapping on Monday of 25 schoolgirls from a boarding school in Kebbi state and an attack on a church in Kwara state, in which a church official told Reuters that 38 worshippers were taken by gunmen.”

On Nov. 26, it was reported that “Amid a rash of mass kidnappings in Nigeria, an Anglican priest in Nigeria abducted along with his wife and daughter has died in captivity.” The Rev. Edwin Achi was kidnapped on Oct. 28 along with his wife, Sarah, and daughter. Although how he was killed is unclear, the assailants had demanded a ransom of 600 million naira ($415,216)—an exorbitant sum for most people, let alone impoverished Nigerians.

Finally, Rev. Ezekiel Dachomo, a pastor in Plateau State, faces death threats for speaking out against Islamic attacks on Christians and calling for protection against what he (and many others) call a genocide. In mid-October, Ezekiel recorded a video standing over a mass grave of Christians slaughtered by Muslim herdsmen. He criticized the Nigerian government for denying the violence and appealed to the U.S. and the U.N. for help:

“My life is in grave danger. Even as I speak, I am on the lookout for attacks. I no longer sleep with my eyes closed. I have been attacked before but escaped... The Nigerian government keeps denying that there's no genocide [sic] against Christians in Nigeria, but look at the corpses that were killed today. I'm calling on President Trump of America to please save our lives in Nigeria. Just as he intervened in the conflict between Israel and Hamas, I'm calling on his attention to Nigeria. Christians are being massacred. They claim Muslims, too, are being killed, but the question is, they're being killed by whom? By Muslims, of course!"

According to a separate report, other Christian leaders in northeast Nigeria have documented, "systematic persecution in Gwoza, Borno state, where hundreds of churches have been destroyed, Christian land and political representation denied, and 107,000 Christians displaced to camps or refugee settlements. They assert these are not isolated incidents but part of a deliberate pattern of erasing Christians and their heritage."

Uganda: On Nov. 4, Muslims slaughtered five Christians because they were selling pork too close to a mosque in Yumbe. The Muslims had initially mobilized to protest peacefully, but before long, a cleric incited them and they turned violent and began attacking Christian properties and homes, including several churches, all of which were vandalized and/or burned. Sheikh Kasim Abdalla, of Munir Mosque, was heard crying, "Yumbe was dedicated to Allah from the beginning. We cannot allow pork shops to operate here. Every Muslim youth must rise and defend the honor of our faith. Let no Christian business that promotes sin remain standing in our land."

At least five Christians were killed in the aftermath, some by stoning; many others were severely injured by Somali sword stabs. "We are in great fear because Muslims are many in the region," a Christian identified only as Bernard said.

General Muslim Abuse of Christians

Pakistan: On Nov. 17, a 21-year-old Christian woman, Monica Jennifer, disappeared from her home, only to appear later in court claiming she had willingly converted to Islam and married her Muslim neighbor. In an interview, her brother, Raza, said Jennifer "was a spirit-filled Christian girl, devoted to her faith. There is no way she would willingly choose to leave her home, her religion, and her family without pressure.... [Muslim neighbor Waleed Ahmad] abducted her and manipulated and blackmailed her until she felt she had no choice but to leave."

When Jennifer failed to return from work, her family immediately reported her disappearance:

“But instead of registering our complaint, [police] told us to come the next morning, Our First Information Report [FIR] was registered on Nov. 23 only after some rights activists intervened, giving the accused sufficient time to marry Monica after forcibly changing her faith.”

Raza adds that Jennifer’s court statement was made under duress, that she remains under threat, and that Ahmad’s relatives have threatened the family to drop the case or face a blasphemy complaint, a charge widely feared for its deadly consequences. Raza also said the marriage was fraudulent, claiming the Islamic certificate lacked required identity details and contains forged signatures. Discussing this case, Katherine Sapna, who works with Christian survivors of forced conversion and forced marriage, said:

“Once minority girls are declared Muslim, they are often warned that leaving Islam would make them apostates – a label that can lead to targeted violence. These threats trap girls in marriages they did not freely choose and leave them vulnerable to lifelong abuse in what can also be described as sexual slavery masked as marriage.”

Separately, according to a Nov. 21 report, Father Rico, a priest with the Order of St. Elias in Argentina, and a Christian layman named Diego, have been traveling through Pakistan “with the sole purpose of freeing Christian slaves.” In 2025 they managed to free 110 Christians, and 200 in 2024, thanks to the donations they collected to help free the slaves.

According to Fr Rico, “Christians suffer from slavery and constant oppression, and their situation is terrible. The Christian is considered ‘chura,’ which ... is equivalent to saying ‘excrement.’ ... After a life of eating garbage, being treated like garbage, and suffering constant violence, some of them don’t know what it’s like to be human. Syria: The diocese of Valencia published a statement around the testimony of Brother Fadi Azar, a Franciscan friar currently stationed in Aleppo. It underscores the sufferings of religious minorities under the new jihadist regime:

“The priest says the situation in Syria is getting worse every day: ‘People don’t want food, clothes, or material aid; they simply want to leave the country and escape the fear that grips them, because they fear for their lives and the lives of their children.’ Since the change of power, with a jihadist government at the head of the country, the situation is untenable, not only for Christians, but also for moderate Muslims and for any minority that feels genuinely threatened.

‘The international community must intervene to change the current situation of instability and fear, because the attacks are incessant.’ These attacks also result in discrimination: many young people lose their jobs because they are Christian, women are forced to wear the niqab, and threatening posters against those who do not convert to Islam adorn the streets near churches.”

Turkey: According to a Nov. 24 report, “Despite some progress in restoring their rights, Christians in Turkey are still struggling against inequality...” Citing President Recep Tayyip Erdogan’s famous boast that “In Turkey, 99 percent of the population is Muslim,” Yuhanna Aktas, president of the Assyrian Union, which represents Christians in southeastern Turkey, said,

“Every time he says that I feel excluded because he always fails to mention the non-Muslim minorities. We are not seen as full citizens.”

The report adds that

“Historians say there are around 100,000 Christians in Turkey today, compared to nearly four million at the start of the 20th century, with the numbers falling significantly due to forced exile or massacres as the Ottoman Empire crumbled and modern Turkey emerged.... Christian minorities have also struggled to achieve representation, with many civil service positions closed to them despite no legal ban on non-Muslim minorities holding office.... For decades after Turkey became a republic, Christians and Jews were regularly described by certain government officials and media outlets as ‘the enemies inside’ and were targeted by discrimination and violence—even into the early 2000s.”

Muslim Attacks on Christian Churches

Bangladesh: On Nov. 7, a Catholic cathedral and adjoining school in Dhaka, were bombed—just hours before a worship event that drew bishops from across the country. According to the report, “A suspect on a motorbike threw two homemade bombs at the church — one exploded near the gate, and another landed near the property, failing to detonate. No one was injured in the attack.”

Christian minorities of the Muslim majority nation expressed fears from this and similar incidents: “Anxiety grips many of us while going to church,” one churchgoer said. Before this bombing, the Holy Rosary Church in Tejgaon, located in the capital, was attacked with a similar homemade bomb on Oct. 8. “We Christians are very few in number; we are peace-loving people,” said another local. “But these incidents are frightening us.”

INOBSCURA COMMENT

The following subparagraph “United States” below, although prior to INOBSCURA incorporation I discovered and retained during my prior Church Security Director tenure. This report is a very graphic, yet unheeded warning. I also embedded the entire Redacted Criminal Complaint to enhance the raw reality, again, unheeded:

United States: On Nov. 7, the U.S. Dept. of Justice announced that Zimnako Salah, a 46-year-old Muslim man, had been sentenced to six years in prison. Earlier, he had visited several churches in Arizona, California, and Colorado “wearing black backpacks”: “At two of those churches, Salah planted those backpacks, placing congregants in fear that they contained bombs. At the other two churches, Salah was confronted by security before he got the chance to plant those backpacks... The jury’s verdict included a special finding that Salah targeted the church because of the religion of the people who worshipped there, making the offense a hate crime.”

Salah had also tried to construct a real bomb that would fit in a backpack. When the FBI searched a storage unit of his, the bureau took material that “served as component parts of an improvised explosive device.” The Justice Department adds that Salah “had consumed extremist propaganda online,” including searching “for videos of ‘infidels dying,’” and watching “videos depicting ISIS terrorists murdering people.” In a cellphone video taken days before the crimes of conviction, Salah declared, “America. We are going to destroy it.”

According to the U.S. Attorney, “Salah’s seeming ultimate goal to bomb a Christian church would have resulted in many deaths and injuries if his plan had not been thwarted.”

France: On Nov. 5, Muslim teenagers terrorized the cathedral on Pey-Berland Square in the centre of Bordeaux. According to the report, “a group of teenagers filmed themselves in the nave of Saint-André Cathedral, located on Place Pey-Berland in Bordeaux. In the videos, the five teenagers, aged 16 and 17, repeatedly shout ‘Allah Akbar’. The scene frightened the worshippers who had come to pray, prompting them to alert the local police.

Upon arrival, officers apprehended three of the five teenagers; the other two had already fled. Placed in police custody, the three teenagers are accused of condoning terrorism. However, the police are trying to reassure the public. ‘This is completely stupid behavior. The terrorist angle has been ruled out,’ asserts the Gironde DIPN (Departmental Directorate of the National Police).”

Italy: A popular Catholic church, and a chapel, both in Rome, were desecrated with human feces and urine—a well-documented Islamist tactic against churches. First, on Nov. 25, human excrement was found smeared throughout the St. Nicholas Church in Bari, including its altar. A few days later, more human waste and urine were also found in various areas of a Catholic chapel, including its altar. The report adds that “Numerous acts of desecration inside churches have taken place throughout Europe and indeed across the globe within the last year alone. In October, a man urinated on the high altar of St. Peter’s Basilica during Mass. In February, another man jumped onto St. Peter’s high altar and kicked off the historic candelabra along with the altar cloths.”

Sudan: On Nov. 26, Christians discovered Islamic graffiti on their church wall. CCTV camera captured a man coming out of a vehicle with paint and writing in Arabic on the wall of the Sudan Presbyterian Evangelical Church-Port Sudan, “There is no God but Allah, and Muhammad is the Prophet of Allah.” According to Philip Abdelmasih of the church in question, “This is a deliberate act of the Islamists and might be the beginning of Boko Haram-like acts in Sudan.”

Another pastor, whose identity is held for security, said “The Coptic Orthodox church was also targeted as well, we have informed the authorities about the incident, and we expect them to arrest the culprit who was captured by the CCTV camera.”

Indonesia: On Nov. 30, around 1 a.m., a large group of Muslims surrounded and hurled stones at a church. Some of the Muslims also attacked and wounded several Christians with swords, while others shattered windows and set off firecrackers. Accustomed to such behavior, a Christian militia formed, at which point police acted quickly to prevent the conflict from escalating.

Muslim Attacks on Christian Apostates and Blasphemers

Uganda: Sudanese Christian refugee Safaa Abdalla Yousif and her family, who fled Sudan in 2016 due to religious persecution, are now living in fear in Uganda as other Muslims try to kill them. On Nov. 19, she received an Arabic language text from an unknown number:

“You are infidel because you left Islam, your blood will be shed.”

In the weeks and months before this death threat, Safaa had been sharing her faith with Muslims, provoking some to anger. One Muslim, during an interfaith debate, declared that he wished he had burned her vehicle on a prior occasion in Sudan “so that we get rid of you and can get some rest.” Muslims from Somalia have also threatened her. A Somali convert she worked with was kidnapped and tortured by Muslim relatives:

“He was sent back to warn us to close the church and stop discipleship classes. He said, ‘If you don’t stop the ministry and close the church, they will kill you because you are now known to them very well.’”

Most recently, unknown persons attempted to open the window of the room where her 13-year-old daughter was sleeping:

“Since that day, I have not been sleeping well during nights. The girl is scared, and this made me upset. The move was a sign that we are being seriously monitored by the radical Muslims who wish to kidnap or kill us.”

So the family—the husband and father of which was also stabbed in 2019 by Somali Muslims—is on the run again.

Separately, according to a Nov. 30 report, 27-year-old Sudanese refugee Essam Juma Abdelkreem was expelled from his uncle’s home after converting from Islam to Christianity. Fleeing war-torn Khartoum, Abdelkreem had secretly embraced Christianity in early 2025, completed discipleship training, and was baptized, until his uncle’s wife searched through his bag and discovered a Bible:

“She immediately reported to my uncle. Upon hearing the report, my uncle was emotionally upset and ordered me to leave his shop and his house immediately.”

Pakistan: According to a Nov. 3 report, a Christian man has been in prison for nearly a year-and-a-half on a false blasphemy charge, and his impoverished family has been unable to afford legal representation. On Jun. 26, 2024, 22-year-old Christian waiter, Basharat Masih, was arrested under Pakistan’s blasphemy laws. He was traveling to begin his new job, when authorities raided his bus, confiscated his phone, and accused him of sharing blasphemous content online—charges he denies. Discussing his case, the British Asian Christian Association said,

“Basharat’s story is yet another example of how Pakistan’s blasphemy laws destroy innocent lives. We cannot allow fear or poverty to silence justice.”

In a separate incident, according to a Nov. 6 report, police arrested Rasheed Masih, 48, a mentally handicapped Christian man, for allegedly trying to incite religious tensions by recording a video against Islamic and governmental corruption. He was charged under blasphemy, sedition, and anti-terrorism laws. According to his son, Nabeel, Rasheed had been suffering from severe depression for the past two to three years after failing to obtain justice:

“He worked as a sanitary worker in a rural health center along with my mother Najma Rasheed, but he was targeted with false accusations when he raised his voice against corruption and theft of government resources by the Muslim staff members.... His Muslim colleagues were also opposed to him when he turned down their attempts to convert him to Islam.”

Nabeel said authorities ignored his father’s complaints, repeatedly transferred him, and finally terminated him in January 2018. Rasheed’s challenge in the Lahore High Court failed, and prolonged unemployment plunged the family into financial crisis. “Our parents could no longer afford education for their three children,” Nabeel said, adding that his father’s hardship led to severe depression and multiple hospitalizations:

“My father is a good man, but he has suffered a lot due to his Christian faith. People who have nurtured grudges against him over the years for exposing their wrongdoings have conspired to implicate him in the false case, taking advantage of his mental health condition.... This is the price we continue to pay as a family for my father’s stance against the corrupt system... He is a victim of the system and deserves sympathy.”

Iran: Convert to Christianity, Aida Najafloo, imprisoned since February 2025 for her faith-based activities—including praying, performing baptisms, taking communion, and celebrating Christmas—suffered a spinal injury on Oct. 31 when she fell from her top bunk. Aida, who previously had spinal disc surgery and suffers from rheumatoid arthritis, was diagnosed with a fractured T12 vertebra. Despite medical recommendations for urgent treatment, authorities returned her to prison, prolonging her pain and worsening her condition.

When even fellow prisoners protested, officials finally took her to a second hospital, where surgery was advised. Aida also faces charges of “propaganda activity against the Islamic 21-yr-old Caleb Phillips was at Cities Church in St. Paul, MN, when agitators hijacked the worship service on Jan. 18—but that wasn't the end of it. Agitators are continuing to harass and heckle people trying to attend church there the last two Sundays since then! Pray for Caleb and the church that they would stand strong and shine as a light in the darkness.

Don Lemon quotes the Bible in response to arrest for Minnesota church storming

IN OBSCURA COMMENT

This statement is a direct and unambiguous threat to Christians. This is also a verbal IED to enlarge and mobilize insurgent targeting and attacks. The use of "cages" is quite obvious. This threat is also a very brief window into the basic elements of every crime: Mens Rea (The Intent of the heart) and Actus Rea (the physical deed of committing that intent into action. his involvement in the church attack was the use of journalistic cover.

"There is a passage in scripture that says, 'The truth shall set you free,'" Lemon wrote, quoting John 8:32...

"But it does not say it will protect you from cages. It does not say it will spare you the consequences of seeing too clearly. It does not say it will make the powerful comfortable."

INSANE--Virginia is officially attempting to uniquely criminalize Islamophobia as both a "hate crime" and "assault and battery" under state law.

The bill, introduced by Senator Saddam Azlan Salim, defines "Islamophobia" as "malicious prejudice or hatred directed toward Islam or Muslims." This applies, for the record, even if the victim isn't actually Muslim.

So... genuine question--if you say that the radical Islamic terrorists that crashed a plane into the Pentagon HERE IN VIRGINIA 25 years ago were evil, are you likely to be prosecuted for it? 🤔

I have so many thoughts 🙄

Assault and battery; definition of "Islamophobia", penalty.

Patrons | All Patrons

Introduced by: Saddam Azlan Salim \(Chief Patron\)

Summary As Introduced

Assault and battery; definition of "Islamophobia"; penalty. Defines "Islamophobia" as it relates to the crime of assault and battery as malicious prejudice or hatred directed toward Islam or Muslims. This definition applies regardless of whether the victim is actually a practitioner of Islam, provided that the perpetrator targeted such victim based on a perceived adherence to such faith. The bill also clarifies that religious conviction includes Islam. The bill directs the Department of State Police, in consultation with the Office of the Attorney General and the Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, to include the bill's definition of "Islamophobia" in its hate crime reporting central repository.

"You CAN'T make this up... 🤔"

A church in Cedar Rapids, Iowa just turned Sunday service vibes into full-on ICE resistance bootcamp.

They ran a FAKE ICE raid simulation—actors storming in yelling 'ICE!', detaining people—while training the crowd to whip out phones, film everything, and demand 'Show me the warrant!'

This wasn't in some activist warehouse. It was INSIDE St. Paul's United Methodist Church. Hundreds showed up.

Supposed to be preaching JESUS, not playing cop-watch games against federal agents.

Churches like this are becoming straight-up dens of demons, swapping the Gospel for woke politics.

If your pastor starts handing out 'Know Your Rights' flyers instead of the Bible... run. 🏃

Share if you think houses of God should stay out of the deportation drama! 🔥 #ChurchGoneWrong #NoICEinChurch #FaithNotActivism"

PSA for places of worship: Being welcoming is essential, but so is situational awareness.

In light of yesterday's incident at a Brooklyn Chabad, it's important to look at certain behaviors through a security lens.

While full details are still emerging, the suspect had reportedly been seen at multiple Chabad locations in recent months. At times asking for help or religious guidance, claiming Jewish ancestry, and discussing conversion.

These behaviors can reflect mental health challenges, but they can also resemble pre-incident surveillance or casing. The point is not to assume intent, but to prepare for all outcomes.

Welcoming communities do not have to be naïve ones. Awareness, documenting visitors, and sharing incidents with other locations in your vicinity save lives.

I have been warning of this for over 5 years, I have seen it visibly in my spirit. This includes those who not only LET it happen, stayed silent and forced it into existence. God is well aware of those who laughed at me, called me annoying and too intense. The federal, state and local agencies who never gave me the time of day. This includes local churches who refused to gather and take actions to protect. The faith-based security organizations. All of which refused to be passionate and take risk. There is a very powerful reason why this happened, all of it. You get this level of hard resistance. This who have ears, listen to the spirit speaking to the seven churches. Do you even know where this is in scripture? Why have you turned your back on Him?

Tonight, in Reston, we turned sorrow into strength. Hundreds gathered at United Christian Parish for our candlelit vigil to honor Renee Good and Alex Pretti and others harmed by DHS violence.

Tears, faith, and calls for justice filled the room. The Trump admin wants to break us, but we will not be broken.

Do you know why they hate the "white evangelical Christian"? Because we cannot be controlled by their propaganda or their threats or their astroturf front groups funded by left-wing billionaires.

No matter the issue--Abortion. Climate change alarmism. Racial grievance mongering. Sexual morality. The gender binary. No matter how they tell us to submit to their woke ideology, we refuse, because we have a standard that stands above and outside culture and political pressure. The Bible.

And that is why we really are the lone bulwark standing in the way of all-out leftist domination.

IN OBSCURA THREAT UPDATE
IN RE: IN OBSCURA MSG TLP-C ///FLASH/// CHURCH ATTACK ICE ST
PAUL MN 18 JAN 2026 IMMEDIATE DISSEMINATION

Insurgents were released from custody by court order. The court also refused to approve a federal criminal complaint against an identified former journalist whose activities evidence active tradecraft and use of journalistic cover.

Further intentional strategic TTP messaging by elected officials on open media, verbally tasked these insurgent groups to expand their targeting to more churches. With this by materiality, Christians, Clergy, Congregations.

IN OBSCURA reporting has consistently warned of insurgent targeting of Christians. At present a Threat Intelligence Analysis is being prepared, and in abeyance based on rapidly developing insurgent activity.

Democrats and the Left are increasingly realizing that rather than simply denigrate Christianity, as they did in the past, they're better off trying to appropriate the language of Christianity and to use Jesus as a mascot for wickedness (as we saw with these protestors who stormed into a St. Paul church and screamed in the faces of innocent children about their white "privilege." They then had the gall to claim they were "turning over tables" like Jesus.)

Obviously, there's nothing Christ-like about that, as anyone with even a passing acquaintance with their Bible knows. But the Left is banking on people not being familiar with their Bibles.

The same is true with @jamestalarico. What he says about Christianity is heresy. It is anathema to a holy, jealous God who will tolerate the worship of no other gods.

What we learned in Ezra Klein's interview with him is that he is no follower of the Way, no follower of Christ.

But Christian, you need to know your Bible well enough to be able to expose counterfeits like Talarico. This is where the battleground is now.

Minnesota State Rep. Leigh Finke (D), a man pretending to be a woman, is calling for anti-ICE protestors to CONTINUE storming Christian churches and disrupting services until ICE leaves Minneapolis.

Leigh for Minnesota
Yesterday at 9:48 AM

Yesterday protestors disrupted services at Cities Church in Saint Paul, where the leader of the local I.C.E. office also serves as pastor. The protest has caused outrage, promises of retribution and prosecution, and the usual round of upset. But it has had me thinking for the past 24 hours of the actions of Act Up and WHAM, in 1989, who staged a die in and protest in St Patrick's Cathedral in New York. An action that similarly brought condemnation during a time when an out of control crisis was left to its destruction for far too long.

Actions like this—nonviolent resistance in the face of government inaction or oppression—are essential. And they must continue until I.C.E. is out of our state, the administration is out of the White House, and dignity and humanity for all of our neighbors is achieved.

Today is Martin Luther King Jr Day in America. Dr. King knew that injustice must be confronted. He knew the moral conscience of the nation must be made to hear the desperate plight of those who are suffering. He knew that the only way to achieve this at national scale was for people to rise up together in nonviolent revolution until all were free.

So did Act UP, and so do the people of Minneapolis. I.C.E. OUT

Do State Rep. Finke and Mayor Frey know? Queer Space Collective, based in Minneapolis, requires everyone visiting the center for the first time to bring a photo ID.
But they don't believe in voter ID. 🙄

Christians, and churches about what's to come

"This is the beginning of what's going to happen here."

#Minnesota

Members of the church called the disruption the ultimate disrespect in the house of the Lord, carried out by leftist extremists and anti-ICE agitators - including Lemon - who walked around inside of the church - interviewing church members and appearing to defend the agitators who were chanting anti-ICE slogans

Lemon, who was fired from CNN back in 2023 because of plummeting ratings and on-air controversies, was with the mob, walking into the church, disrupting the service, and allegedly encouraging their behavior.

#minneapolis

Eyewitnesses say the agitators burst into the sanctuary and started shouting Renee Good's name - Good is the woman that was shot and killed by an ICE agent after she allegedly tried to run him over with her SUV

The agitators then refused to leave even though church leaders repeatedly asked them to go.

Lemon, claimed that he was just a "journalist" and not an activist, however many are questioning how Lemon knew the anti-ICE agitators were going to storm that specific church at that exact time.

Church representatives emphasized that the pastor has no ties to ICE, calling the protesters' allegations baseless and harmful.

"Our focus is on faith and community, not politics or enforcement agencies," the church said - pointing out the irony of radicals invading a place of worship to protest border security measures aimed at protecting American citizens from illegal migrant criminals.

Harmeet Dhillon - the assistant Attorney General for civil rights- saying the incident was "Infuriating conduct. Imagine if this happened at your house of worship! Demonic and godless behavior and also appears facially illegal."

#ChristinaAguayoNews

She then says she will be investigating the potential violations of the federal FACE Act by the anti-ICE agitators and Don Lemon for "desecrating a house of worship and interfering with Christian worshippers."
