Recall that the Nigerian Army recently arrested a local vigilante member in Plateau State over the alleged illegal possession of a locally fabricated rifle said to have been used for community protection amid repeated terrorist attacks in parts of the state.

Troops of Operation Ensuring Peace (OPEP) had last week arrested five suspected illegal arms fabricators and recovered a cache of weapons during a raid operation in Jos South Local Government Area of Plateau.

This is contained in an operational report by the Nigerian Army, made available to newsmen in Abuja on Friday.

The report said that the operation was conducted on Thursday at about 15:00 hours at Vom community, following credible human intelligence (HUMINT) on the activities of illegal arms manufacturers in the area. It said troops of OPEP carried out a well-coordinated raid on two identified fabrication sites, where the suspects were caught in the act of manufacturing illegal weapons.

Additional chants heard during the protest included: “We don’t want no two states, we want all of it,” “End the settler Zionist state,” “Death to the IDF,” and, “There is only one solution, intifada revolution.” Demonstrators also shouted in Arabic “From the water to the water, Palestine is Arab” while marching to drumbeats.

Video from the protest showed confrontations between demonstrators and officers from the New York City Police Department as protesters attempted to push through police barricades. One protester was seen striking an image of Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson, the late spiritual leader of the Chabad Hasidic movement, while others formed triangle hand signs associated with Hamas symbolism.

Pastor Clive Johnston, 78, was convicted and fined for preaching the gospel within an abortion clinic buffer zone in Northern Ireland in 2024.

The judge convicted Johnston because, though Johnston wasn't addressing abortion, "He was within any safe access so he was doing an act, in this case preaching the gospel, intending that any person hearing it would be influenced whether directly or indirectly."

Johnston is seeking to learn if he has options for appealing the decision.

Critics note that this conviction raises further concerns about freedom of speech throughout the UK.

The Details:

On July 7, 2024, Johnston, who lives in Sion Mills, County Tyrone, conducted an outdoor service within a designated safe access zone near Causeway Hospital.

Johnston, 78, is the former president of the Association of Baptist Churches in Ireland and is legally represented by the Christian Institute. On May 7, he was found guilty and sentenced on two counts under the Abortion Services (Safe Access Zones) Act.

Israel, Islam, and the Persecution of Christians

An Objective Response to Tucker Carlson, Raymond Ibrahim, May 06, 2026

<https://raymondibrahim.substack.com/p/israel-islam-and-the-persecution>

ANALYST COMMENT: I have vetted Raymond Ibrahim as a superb subject matter expert the history of Islam and its persecution and genocide of the global Church and markedly the Crusades. He is an accomplished author and historian in this threat environment...

On numerous occasions, Tucker Carlson has spoken about what he presents as Israeli hostility for and outright persecution of Christians.

On the one hand, and to be sure, if Israelis—or anyone else for that matter—attack Christians and/or express hostility for Christianity—breaking crosses or statues, and/or desecrating churches—they should be exposed and questioned. Only recently I interviewed Dr. Iddo Netanyahu, the Israeli prime minister's brother, and asked him directly about this issue (video here).

In this sense, Tucker is not to blame: Wherever there are injustices, wherever innocents are abused, we should know about and have the right to look into and examine it. On the other hand, what exactly, is Tucker's motive? He says he's a Christian who cares about fellow Christians around the world—and yet it seems that he only talks about Christians under Israeli authority.

This would suggest that Christians suffer more from Israeli actions than anything and anyone else around the world. Why else would Tucker only focus on the Holy Land's Christians? Is that the case?

Northwest Nigeria’s Emerging Hybrid Threat: Lakurawa

A growing convergence of insurgency, criminality, and jihadist influence.

Daniele Garofalo May 10, 2026

<https://www.danielegarofalomonitoring.com/p/northwest-nigerias-emerging-hybrid>

In just a few years, Lakurawa has evolved from a little-known armed network operating along the Nigeria–Niger border into a significant security concern with increasing operational capacity, posing a growing threat in northwest Nigeria. The group now combines coercive governance, cross-border mobility, intimidation, and jihadist influence in ways increasingly resembling early-stage insurgent ecosystems seen elsewhere in the Sahel. Its trajectory matters not only for Nigeria, but for the broader evolution of hybrid armed groups across West Africa.

The emergence of Lakurawa in northwest Nigeria reflects a broader transformation in the regional security landscape, where the boundaries between jihadist insurgency and organized criminality are increasingly blurred. Operating primarily in Sokoto and Kebbi states along the Nigeria–Niger border, Lakurawa has transitioned from a locally tolerated armed presence into a coercive militant actor exerting influence over rural communities. Its trajectory illustrates a pattern observed across parts of the Sahel and Lake Chad Basin, where armed groups exploit weak governance, porous borders, and socio-economic vulnerabilities to establish footholds and gradually expand their operational reach.

How a Local Security Actor Became a Coercive Force

Lakurawa’s early presence in parts of Sokoto State was reportedly tolerated and, in some cases, encouraged by local communities seeking protection against widespread banditry. This initial acceptance provided the group with access to local networks, terrain familiarity, and a degree of social legitimacy that facilitated its consolidation. However, this relationship proved temporary. As Lakurawa expanded its influence, it began to impose its own system of authority, displacing existing security arrangements and undermining local autonomy.

🚩 Wanna puke? Wanna see a federally funded university ignoring 18 U.S. Code § 2339B, lending material support to U.S.-designated terror organizations?

Michelle J. Anderson is the president of Brooklyn College. Her salary is $377,349, with perks that bring her total compensation package well over $500,000.

Under President Face-Diaper's watch, Brooklyn College has become a terrorist launching pad since the Oct 7th massacres.

Today, their student union is celebrating Nakba Day by calling for a violent uprising against Jews.

The organization's social media flyer displays former Hamas leaders Ismail Haniyeh and Yahya Sinwar, both mass murderers, alongside Leila Khaled of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP), who is responsible for multiple hijackings of commercial airlines.

Brooklyn College fleeced American taxpayers for $223 MILLION in federal funding last year. They're about to get it again for 2026-2027.

 UPDATE: The Judicial Empire Strikes Back!

Last month, a Texas State University professor, Idris Atsu Robinson, was fired for inciting violence during a 2024 anarchist event on riots and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

His lecture was titled, "Strategic Lessons from the Palestinian Resistance."

In other words, "What Tactics Can We Learn From Hamas?"

Robinson told the crowd, "I fetishize riots. We want to bring about divine violence. All power is organized power. Violence needs to be planned. Riots are very important to me."

Robinson has written extensively in support of domestic terrorism in the name of Communism, Socialism, Islam, and BLM.

He received his wish when violence broke out at his event, as a mob of pro-terror lunatics assaulted some brave citizens who were filming.

The professor sued the university for a violation of his First Amendment rights.

A Texas judge has now ruled the university MUST reinstate him for one year, including back pay and teaching privileges, then the university can revisit their decision.

Texas State University is set to receive between $183-$190 MILLION in federal funding from our Department of Education over the next 6 months.

This is a very rare 'active shooter' situation on a public street in Boston.

Attacks are usually planned for months and target specific people/place that represent a deeply held grievance of the shooter. The assailant blames all their problems on that place or people.

These 'active shooter' attacks are usually over before police arrive when the shooter ends their own life, surrenders, is subdued by bystanders, or flees.

A man walking down a street in Cambridge, MA with a gun and firing 60+ shots at random cars is a huge anomaly within this well defined genre of public violence.

🚩 Minnesota State Rep. Athena Hollins says she helped draft 78 bills to “attack” ICE and federal law enforcement “from every single angle possible.”

She says her office worked with the St. Paul teachers union to organize parents “at every street corner, at every school,” pushed pressure on the Governor Tim Walz for eviction moratoriums, and argued activists must “stay ready” rather than return to normal.

At a recent DSA-LA panel, “socialists in office” explained how they use public office to advance movement politics, anti-ICE organizing, mutual aid, and attacks on the Democratic establishment.

I break it all down in my latest for @CityJournal!

“White supremacy has infiltrated the Black community with a narrative that Palestine don’t got nothing to do with us. And that’s a lie from the pit of hell.”

Community organizer Erica Nanton explains how police repression on the south side of Chicago is connected to the genocide in Palestine.

Nanton spoke as part of a press conference following a hearing on HB2723, an Illinois bill that seeks to repeal the 2015 anti-BDS bill signed by then-Governor Bruce Rauner. That law made it illegal for pensions to invest in companies that boycott Israel, effectively holding companies hostage to doing business with Israel under the threat of losing hundreds of millions of dollars in pension investments.

#Hamburg police arrest 17-year-old national of #Syria suspected of planning an #ISIS-inspired terror attack.

- He allegedly wanted to kill "infidels" using a fertilizer bomb, Molotov cocktails or a knife
- Possible targets: a shopping centre, bar or police station
- Seized: fertilizer (for explosives), liquid grill lighter, a knife, and a balaclava.
- This Hamburg case fits into a clear and well-documented trend in #Germany and #Europe of a rising number of foiled ISIS-inspired terror plots involving minors and teenagers.
- Authorities have successfully prevented most of these attacks thanks to effective online monitoring and intelligence tips — but the increasing frequency is highly concerning.

On October 10, 2025, Chinese authorities launched coordinated nationwide raids against underground Christian leaders. Chinese pastor Ezra Jin and many others were arrested on charges of “inciting to subvert state power.”

According to his family, Jin is being held in harsh prison conditions without proper medical treatment or access to a Bible.

“What we’re seeing now is a renewed desire from the state under Chairman Xi to engineer souls.”

Mozambique's Muslim community has condemned ongoing attacks by jihadists in the north, who have increasingly targeted Christians.

Following an assault on St Louis de Montfort Church in Minhoene village, near Meza, Cabo Delgado Province, the Islamic Community of Mozambique (ICM) contacted Bishop António Juliasso of Pemba, distancing itself from acts of violence.

ICM said: "The Islamic Community of Mozambique expresses its deepest concern over the recent attacks carried out in the province of Cabo Delgado, particularly the destruction of community infrastructure and places of worship in Meza."

This “Pastor”, Quan Lanae Green says this is not about hatred for a nation, it’s about surrender, repentance and declaring alone that Jesus Christ is King.

I personally find it interesting that she focuses on the word “allegiance” equaling Babylon but what happened to the phrase “one nation, under God?”

Listen, I submit to my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ but I don’t know how I feel about this because this nation is a nation of God!

🚫 Rep. Justin Pearson Just Mocked the Holy Spirit in Church – This Ain't Christianity, It's Race Theater 🚫

Rep. Justin J. Pearson sounds like he stepped straight out of a 1942 slavery film every time he opens his mouth. This man isn't led by the Spirit of God — he's possessed by race grievance and delusion. He talks like he's still fighting in Django, convinced he's some modern-day liberator for the Black race.

Today in church, he turned worship into a spectacle and made a mockery of the Holy Spirit. That's not Christianity — that's straight-up blasphemy.
Brother needs to repent and stop playing revolutionary preacher.
