KNOW THE TARGET – WATCH THE TARGET – LOOK DEEPER -EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED

IN OBSCURA THEAT LEVEL – IMMINENT

CAVEAT: THIS INTELLIGENCE PRODUCT RELIES ON OPEN-SOURCE MEDIA OR GOVERNMENT RELEASED UNCLASSIFIED INFORMATION. RECOMMENDED ACTIONS ARE INCLUDED FOR CLIENTS FOR INFORMATION AND ACTIONS DEEMED APPROPRIATE.

The following report by the Secure Communities Network is included in its original emailed appearance: Pay particular attention to the neutralized progressed attack plan in Pittsburgh, PA. Also note. the media release statement of the security director.

IN OBSCURA CONTEXT Pastors, Rabbis MUST address the threat and not what they think it is. We are a target. We have been a target. Target intelligence collection and surveillance of our locations is rampant, largely undetected and subdued by authorities and news media. Far too many security teams are suppressed and underutilized and under trained. Case law on lawsuits against churches for not providing a secure and safety environment is largely found for the Plaintiff. Church Security teams are uninterested in professional liaison relationships with teams of other churches, as well the police are uninterested in close relationships in many jurisdictions.

This forces us into a trap of our own making, complete with reactive postures and why attacks have multiplied including general crimes especially arson and insurgent groups invading church services. No one wants to face the Islamist-Communist operations coming at us. The churches are even more hated than synagogues, with daily proof just in media, and I am seeing capitulation and reactive spirits when that eventual attack comes. What do you not understand?

(United States) "Countless lives" were saved after the FBI thwarted a "mass casualty attack" allegedly planned by a 21-year-old Pennsylvania man, the Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh's director of community security said. The FBI arrested 21-year-old Jonathan Kramer of Valencia at a hotel in Cranberry Township last Saturday. The Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh says it learned of Kramer and his plan on Monday evening. Investigators won't say which specific places Kramer had on his radar, but they say it included synagogues.

(North Carolina) Federal authorities arrested a North Carolina man accused of mailing antisemitic threats to Jewish organizations and leaders, including a Holocaust memorial and officials with the American Jewish Committee and the American Israel Public Affairs Committee. Brian Charles was charged with mailing threatening communications, according to a criminal complaint filed in federal court. The FBI alleges that Charles mailed the letters from Charlotte, N.C., to recipients in Florida and Washington, D.C., in June and July.

(Ontario) A 29-year-old man opened fire on a police officer stationed outside an Ontario synagogue at the start of Yom Kippur on Sunday evening, triggering a shootout involving as many as 30 shots, the province's police watchdog said Monday. The gunfire left the assailant with life-threatening injuries and seriously wounded a veteran of nearly 13 years with the Belleville Police Service who was recovering in intensive care. The province's Special Investigations Unit said preliminary evidence showed the man arrived in a truck around 7 p.m. on Sunday and fired at an officer outside the Sons of Jacob Synagogue in Belleville, about 110 miles east of Toronto. The officer returned fire before a second officer arrived and also fired.

"Great Catch": Man Arrested After Airport Security Finds Suspected Explosive in Carry-On, TSA agents allegedly found a suspected explosive device hidden in a pill bottle during security screening at Omaha's Eppley Airfield. Omaha police arrested the passenger Alex Igna, Published 11.09.26 | 10:07 | Updated 11.09.26 | 10:31, <https://passport.news/article/3980>

TSA agents allegedly found the suspected explosive device hidden inside a prescription-style pill bottle in his carry-on luggage, according to a federal criminal complaint. Che Kristian Salpas was charged in the U.S. District Court for the District of Nebraska with violating 18 U.S.C. § 844(g)(1), which prohibits carrying an explosive into an airport. From my review of the US District Court of Nebraska US BATFE Criminal Complaint:

"...7. TSA's explosive specialist (TSS-E), Garret Stoker, contacted OPD Bomb Squad to assist. The device was a fully enclosed cardboard tube, approximately four inches long and approximately one inch in diameter. A green hobby fuse was inserted into the middle of the device. Also located in Salpas's bag was a butane lighter and two zippo style lighters.

8. An X-ray of the device showed the tube was completely filled with a powder.

Sargeant Kristopher Gates of the OPD Bomb Response Unit, who has extensive training and experience investigating explosives, reviewed the device itself. He indicated that the cardboard tube device had a green hobby/cannon fuse coming from the center, with end caps on each end. This is indicative of an M-Series explosive device. Sgt. Gates indicated that the fuse is not an electric circuit breaker, but instead appears to be a black powder encased in a material designed to be burned down and initiate a powder inside an explosive device....”

Letters: Churches should study ways to cope with active shooters

"...The front-page article on Sept. 13, "'This is where we are' — with increased security churches seek new ways to welcome congregants," was very interesting. Unfortunately, it did not cover many aspects of past church shootings nor actions that need to be taken to minimize victims...

For instance, about half of church attacks start in the parking lot. Anyone who is a pastor, church security person, teacher, principal of a school or even a law enforcement officer tasked with protecting a church, school or event should read the book "First 30 Seconds: The Active Shooter Problem, America's Four Decades of Failure to Adapt and What America Must Change to Minimize Victims" by Ed Monk, a retired lieutenant colonel. The author points out that just because you have an armed officer present you should not think you are completely safe, and you still bear the burden for your own safety. There is even a chapter on church shootings..."

In his nearly 30 years as a minister, the Rev. Fred Devall has taken comfort in an overriding tenet of his faith — “The Episcopal Church welcomes you!” he said, opening his arms.

So it felt odd, said Devall, the pastor of St. Martin’s Episcopal Church in Metairie, to watch this spring as a security consultant walk the church’s ushers through the basics of keeping the church and worshippers safe: Look for unfamiliar faces. Look for someone carrying a backpack. Look for anything that might go wrong. “Those things don’t exactly go together, right?” Devall said of a welcoming church with sometimes suspicious eyes keeping watch. “But this is where we are.”

The consultant told the ushers that “they’re the first set of eyes, the front line,” Devall said. And not to feel awkward introducing themselves to the newcomers walking through the doors of the church on busy Metairie Road.

Faimon Roberts: With mass shootings more frequent, clergy must balance sanctuary and security BY FAIMON A. ROBERTS III | Staff columnist Sep 17, 2026, Nola.com, https://www.nola.com/opinions/faimon_roberts/clergy-mass-shootings-security-opinion-new-orleans/article_da1d3292-d288-446b-b75e-052b9283ba02.html

In what now feels like a lifetime ago, I studied to become a Protestant pastor. The curriculum, as you might expect, included theology, Greek, Hebrew, Bible study and pastoral ministry courses.

Not included in classes I took: threat identification, tactical takedowns and firearm safety. In the late 1990s and early 2000s, when I was in the midst of my studies, my professors thought the biggest threats to churches were the secularization of culture and perhaps postmodern thought. How quaint. As illustrated in a recent story by this newspaper’s Bob Warren, pastors — and indeed clergy of any faith — must keep security near the top of their to-do lists along with that week’s homily. When I started my studies, mass shootings felt like aberrations. Now, they are a disturbingly frequent reality.

Faith groups urge passage of bipartisan bill that would protect houses of worship from protest, “This bill works very hard to balance our First Amendment constitutional rights between the right to free speech and the right to worship,” Rep. Tom Suozzi said.

Andrew Bernard, Jewish News Service <https://www.jns.org/news/u-s-news/faith-groups-urge-passage-of-bipartisan-bill-that-would-protect-houses-of-worship-from-protest>

The bill would make it unlawful, under penalty of a civil fine, for anyone to knowingly disrupt or impede a scheduled religious service by engaging “in a course of conduct that substantially affects interstate commerce” within 100 feet of the entrance of a house of worship. The bill also creates a right for anyone whose religious service is so disrupted to sue in court. “If there’s a civil action that can be brought, it will make the antagonizers, the harassers, the people who don’t want to peaceably protest think twice,” Knott told JNS. Jewish groups have sought greater federal and local protections for houses of worship as a result of anti-Israel protests and attacks against synagogues in the wake of Oct. 7.

She also wrote in her letter about attempting suicide following a series of traumatic events, according to her remarks published in SouthTahoeNow.com and the Tahoe Daily Tribune newspaper. “Sorry is not a strong enough word to explain the depths of my regret and shame” Wallace wrote Oct. 5 in her letter. “I do not think anyone can be as angry at me as I am at myself.”

As the security director at my former church, I was excoriated for asking clergy to disclose to me contents of counseling sessions which are or might be indicators of potential risk and violent outcomes. I have seen several media reports over the years that nailed my instinctive request if that clergy back then. This one report is actually a proper and I required disclosure.

An 87-year-old Frederick, Maryland man is charged with murder after authorities said he led investigators to his home where his roommate was found dead. According to charging documents cited by The Frederick News-Post, an associate pastor at Frederick Christian Fellowship Church contacted a Frederick County Sheriff's Office deputy after a congregant said he had killed someone. When the deputy arrived at the church, Dickstein was still there and told the deputy the address where Bushnell's body was discovered, police said. Investigators spoke with a man who had driven Dickstein to the church. According to prosecutors, during the ride, Dickstein told the man that he had shot Bushnell.

BLECKLEY COUNTY, Ga. (WGXA) — Authorities said the student who was arrested for threatening a school shooting in Bleckley County also planned an "active event" at a local church. On Thursday, a Bleckley County Middle School student was arrested after allegedly threatening to commit a school shooting, after the sheriff's office received a tip from the Federal Bureau of Investigation about a "serious and active threat" to the school system.

"As our investigation has continued, additional information has been uncovered that we believe the public needs to be made aware of," Bleckley County Sheriff Daniel Cape said on Friday. Investigators have determined that the juvenile also expressed plans to carry out an active event at a church. At this time, no specific church was identified, and no specific date or time was given in connection with that threat."

FBI: Milford man accused of child sex abuse tied to church ministry in multiple states

Updated: 10:51 AM EDT Sep 16, 2026, WLWT, Emily Sanderson

ALEXANDRIA, Va. A Milford, Ohio man is facing federal charges, accused of engaging in illegal sexual activity involving minors while serving as a youth minister across several states. According to the FBI and other federal officials, 66-year-old Jeffrey Taylor, who now lives in Milford, Ohio, is accused of sexually grooming and abusing multiple boys during his years working as a youth minister.

According to federal officials, Taylor served in ministry positions in several states: working as a youth minister in Illinois in the 1980s, then serving at The Falls Church in Virginia from 1990 to 2002 and then later working at two churches in Atlanta, Georgia in the early 2000s. Investigators say the alleged abuse spanned from 1990 to 2008.

According to court documents, Taylor is accused of "sexually grooming" multiple boys during his time as a youth minister at The Falls Church in Virginia. Court documents allege Taylor would use "sexual horseplay" as part of the alleged grooming, along with probing questions about the boys' sexual secrets and habits, and detailed revelations about his own sexual experiences. He's accused of traveling with the intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with boys by taking them to ministry events in another state or country.

Lindsay Clancy Juror Taken to Undisclosed Location to Protect His Safety

National, Life News, Steven Ertelt | Sep 18, 2026 | 9:24AM |

The lone juror in the Lindsay Clancy murder trial has been taken to an undisclosed location to protect him from threats from feminists and other who support the mom who killed her three children. Michael was the holdout juror in the trial, that ultimately ended in a mistrial instead of a not guilty verdict thanks to his courage to not go along with the feminists on the jury who admittedly wanted to send a message by exonerating Clancy.

His name spread online after the mistrial. He said he has been doxxed, that his life has been threatened, and that people have stalked his house.

He also addressed attacks on his background. “I did not lie on the questionnaire,” he told Fugitive TV, saying he disclosed a past arrest when selected. A 2021 charge that he assaulted his then-wife was later dismissed. Desronvil and his family have endured doxxing and harassment since his name was first publicly announced this week.

Desronvil’s attorney, Edward Andrew Paltzik, confirmed he was representing the juror, and says he is a conservative Christian and “American hero.” In a lengthy post on social media about Desronville, he said Desronvil is “safe and sound at an undisclosed secure location.”

How much privacy should you expect at church?

IN OBSCURA CONTEXT

This is a very strange article and avoids a context that is vital. This church property is massive, and I am confident they also have off site locations. As such, the security team is using technologies they can afford as a force multiplier. The tone of this article is suspect in its accusation of creating utopia, however church security professionals need to be aware of such portrayals. More creating suspicions and accusations, truth in disclosing the need for technical support of security driven by threat intelligence and past attacks. The article...

Imagine a world where high-control pastors could monitor the movements of every staff member, church member or visitor using the power of artificial intelligence. This is the sacralized dystopia being created at Lakepointe Church in Rockwall, Texas.

Of course, the leaders of Lakepointe would suggest they're creating a utopia. With Pastor Josh Howerton signing a new podcast deal with The Blaze, he uses the name "Live Free" and warns against authoritarian governments who use mass surveillance. In contrast to Howerton's supposed world of freedom, he warns that governments who use mass surveillance need "to be omnipotent now to control outcomes."

According to Mary Kuti, a former Lakepointe worship pastor, one of these "sensitive areas" includes rooms where women undress: "Regarding the cameras: They are everywhere. Some are hidden. In the music studio, cameras were concealed in the black rafters and were not obvious or clearly labeled.

Women have changed clothes in those rooms without knowing cameras were present. That alone deserves serious questions about transparency, privacy, oversight and who has access to that footage."

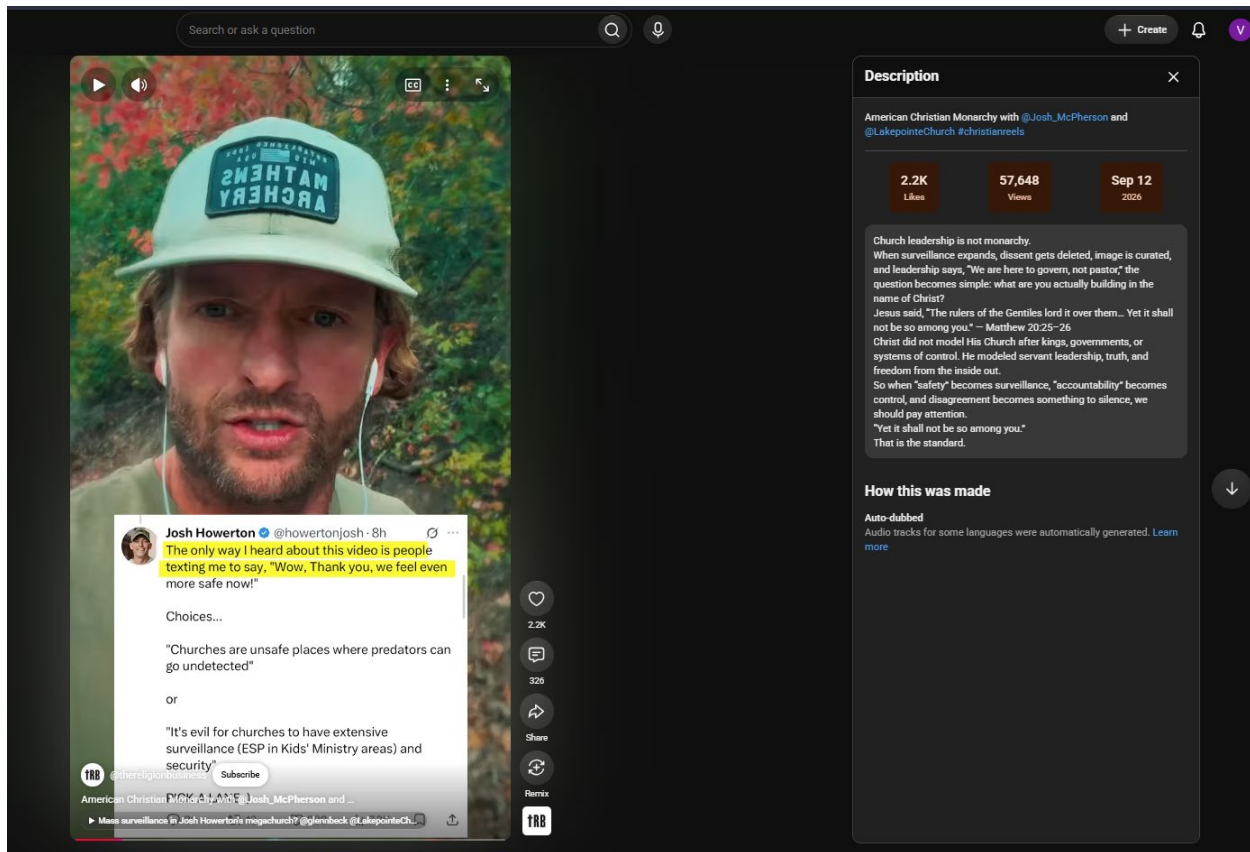

So should we trust Howerton, praise him for his protection, and "pick a lane" without questioning what's going on here? Or should we follow Howerton's own advice to "live free" by looking into the connection between mass surveillance and leaders who view themselves as "omnipotent now to control outcomes"? After SC megachurch kicks sex offender off worship team, church grapples with how to guard children By Matthew Hensley Post and Courier, Sep 14, 2026

SIMPSONVILLE — From the witness stand of a Georgia courtroom, a then-13-year-old boy walked Clayton County jurors through what his former youth minister had done to him during a church camping trip two years earlier.

The boy was awakened in his cot, and the man put the boy's hands on his body, according to the Atlanta Journal-Constitution's coverage of the boy's testimony. Later, the man pulled the boy into his bunk and began fondling him.

Why did only some in leadership roles know of Sidell's past? Why was he able to rise in the church and participate on the worship team? Why did the church seem to have so close a relationship with Sidell's Rusty Bucket Music, a music and event space that parents thought was safe for their children?

IN OBSCURA CONTEXT: 16 Years

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Sixty-three years ago, dynamite planted by Ku Klux Klan members exploded through the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, Alabama, killing four girls as they prepared for Sunday services.

Hundreds of people filled the church on Tuesday on the 63rd anniversary of the bombing. The church marked the anniversary with the opening of a new visitors center that leaders said is aimed at educating people about one of the most horrific events of the Civil Rights Movement and urging a recommitment to continue the struggle for justice.

Klansmen had placed a bundle of dynamite outside the church under a set of stairs. The bombing came during the height of the Civil Rights Movement, eight months after then-Gov. George Wallace pledged "segregation forever."

The girls were gathered in a downstairs washroom before Sunday services when the dynamite exploded at 10:22 a.m. on Sept. 15, 1963. The explosion killed 11-year-old Denise McNair and Cynthia Wesley, Carole Robertson and Addie Mae Collins, all 14. A fifth girl, Sarah Collins Rudolph, the sister of Addie Mae, was in the room and was severely injured but survived.

Three Ku Klux Klansmen were eventually convicted in the blast: Robert Chambliss in 1977; Thomas Blanton in 2001; and Bobby Frank Cherry in 2002.

Bomb Threat Empties Archdiocese of St. Louis HQ in Shrewsbury Before 3 P.M.

By Linden Wynn, Hoodline, Published on September 16, 2026

<https://hoodline.com/2026/09/bomb-threat-empties-archdiocese-of-st-louis-hq-in-shrewsbury-before-3-p-m/>

The Archdiocese of St. Louis shut down its Shrewsbury headquarters early Tuesday after a bomb threat forced an evacuation of the building, prompting a police response before 3 p.m. Officers found no immediate threat to the public and reported no injuries as they investigated. Tuesday's incident was not the first bomb threat to disrupt a public facility in the region this month. Ten days earlier, on September 5, a phoned-in bomb threat prompted a precautionary K-9 and bomb-squad sweep at a South St. Louis County Walmart on Telegraph Road, with the situation still developing as of Saturday afternoon.

Police Charge Man for Alleged Terrorist Threats Against Archdiocese of St. Louis

‘We pray for an end to the hatred and threats of violence that have become so regrettably prevalent on social media,’ an archdiocesan spokesperson said. Tyler Arnold/EWTN News English, September 18, 2026, <https://www.ncregister.com/cna/man-charged-for-alleged-threats-against-archdiocese-of-st-louis>

A 32-year-old man is facing a felony charge for allegedly threatening to kill every person at the headquarters of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of St. Louis.

Prosecutors alleged that Robinson posted a video on TikTok on Sept. 15 in which he said he was two minutes away from the archdiocese and that God had instructed him to use no discernment and that “everyone who walks into that church is guilty and to kill them.” According to the prosecutors, Robinson posted a second video in the parking lot and turned his phone to show archdiocesan offices and said his directions were to leave no one breathing.

The largest online infrastructures used by Antifa networks has been hacked by nationalists.

Autistici/Inventati operated around 1500 websites, and 10000 blogs. The hackers exfiltrated user data, including email addresses and hashed passwords.

At the same time, the U.S. government designated the infrastructure as a Terrorist entity, accusing it of providing digital services to violent Antifa cells and other sanctioned groups.

The Antifa running the network have now announced its shutdown and dissolution.

Its disappearance will hit a large anarchist, communist and Antifa online ecosystem used by thousands of activists and reaching tens of thousands of readers worldwide. NoBlogs alone was estimated at more than 450,000 visits in May 2026.

Hackers have reportedly obtained valuable information on numerous Antifa groups across Europe. The leaked material includes details about their funding, internal plans, networks, and connections. A large number of files are still being analyzed...

NO. ANTIFA IS NOT A TERRORIST ORGANIZATION.... See more

NO. ANTIFA IS NOT A TERRORIST ORGANIZATION.

★ AND THIS IS EXACTLY WHY WORDS MATTER. ★

✓ THE FACTS	✗ WHAT IT'S NOT
 ANTIFA IS NOT A TERRORIST ORGANIZATION. Not a formal organization. No members. No leaders. No headquarters.	 THIS WAS NOT A CASE ABOUT BEING ANTI-ICE. It was about alleged coordinated violence and a shooting.
 PEACEFULLY PROTESTING ICE IS LEGAL. The First Amendment protects your right to protest.	 IDENTIFYING AS ANTIFA IS NOT ILLEGAL. You cannot be convicted for your political beliefs.
 WHAT HAPPENED IN TEXAS: Prosecutors say a demonstration escalated into coordinated vandalism and a shooting.	 ATTENDING A PROTEST IS NOT A CRIME. Being somewhere is not the same as committing a crime.
 THE CONTROVERSY: Whether every defendant should receive terrorism-level sentences based on association, group chats, or alleged coordination.	 EVIDENCE OF POLITICAL BELIEFS IS NOT PROOF OF A CRIME. Books you read, symbols you wear, groups you're in are not crimes.

YOU DON'T LOSE YOUR FIRST AMENDMENT RIGHTS BECAUSE YOU'RE ANTI-FASCIST. YOU ALSO DON'T GET IMMUNITY IF YOU COMMIT VIOLENT CRIMES.

BOTH STATEMENTS CAN BE TRUE AT THE SAME TIME.

 BE CAREFUL WHEN THE GOVERNMENT STARTS BLURRING THE LINE BETWEEN POLITICAL LABELS AND CRIMINAL ACTS. EVENTUALLY TERRORIST JUST MEANS WHOEVER THEY WANT TO SILENCE NEXT.

'BREAKING' TIMELINE

Sunday Sept. 20

- ▲ 12:56 PM -- The shooting happens near Anderson Square and Research Boulevard.
- ▲ 4:19 PM -- The Party for Socialism and Liberation's national account posts: "BREAKING. MAN SHOT BY ICE AGENTS IN AUSTIN." It calls on supporters to protest and declares: "ICE OUT OF AUSTIN NOW!"
- ▲ ~4:19 PM -- The Party for Socialism and Liberation's Austin chapter shares the post in collaboration with the national account and chapters in Houston, San Antonio, Dallas-Fort Worth and Waco.
- ▲ ~4:30 PM -- Freedom Road Socialist Organization, an openly Marxist-Leninist group, also publishes dramatic material about the shooting. Its graphic declares: "ICE SHOOTS AN UNARMED CIVILIAN."
- ▲ ~4:30 PM -- Austin's Democratic Socialists of America posts an "Emergency Demonstration/Vigil" graphic. It tells supporters: "Join us at 8121 Research Blvd from 5-8 p.m. for a spontaneous protest and vigil against yet another instance of ICE and police violence."
- ▲ ~5:30 PM -- BreakThrough News, a pro-communist media platform operated by Singham-funded BreakThrough BT Media, publishes a "BREAKING NEWS" video from Texas declaring: "Austin erupts in protest..."

'SPONTANEOUS PROTEST'

The phrase "spontaneous protest" is revealing and misleading.

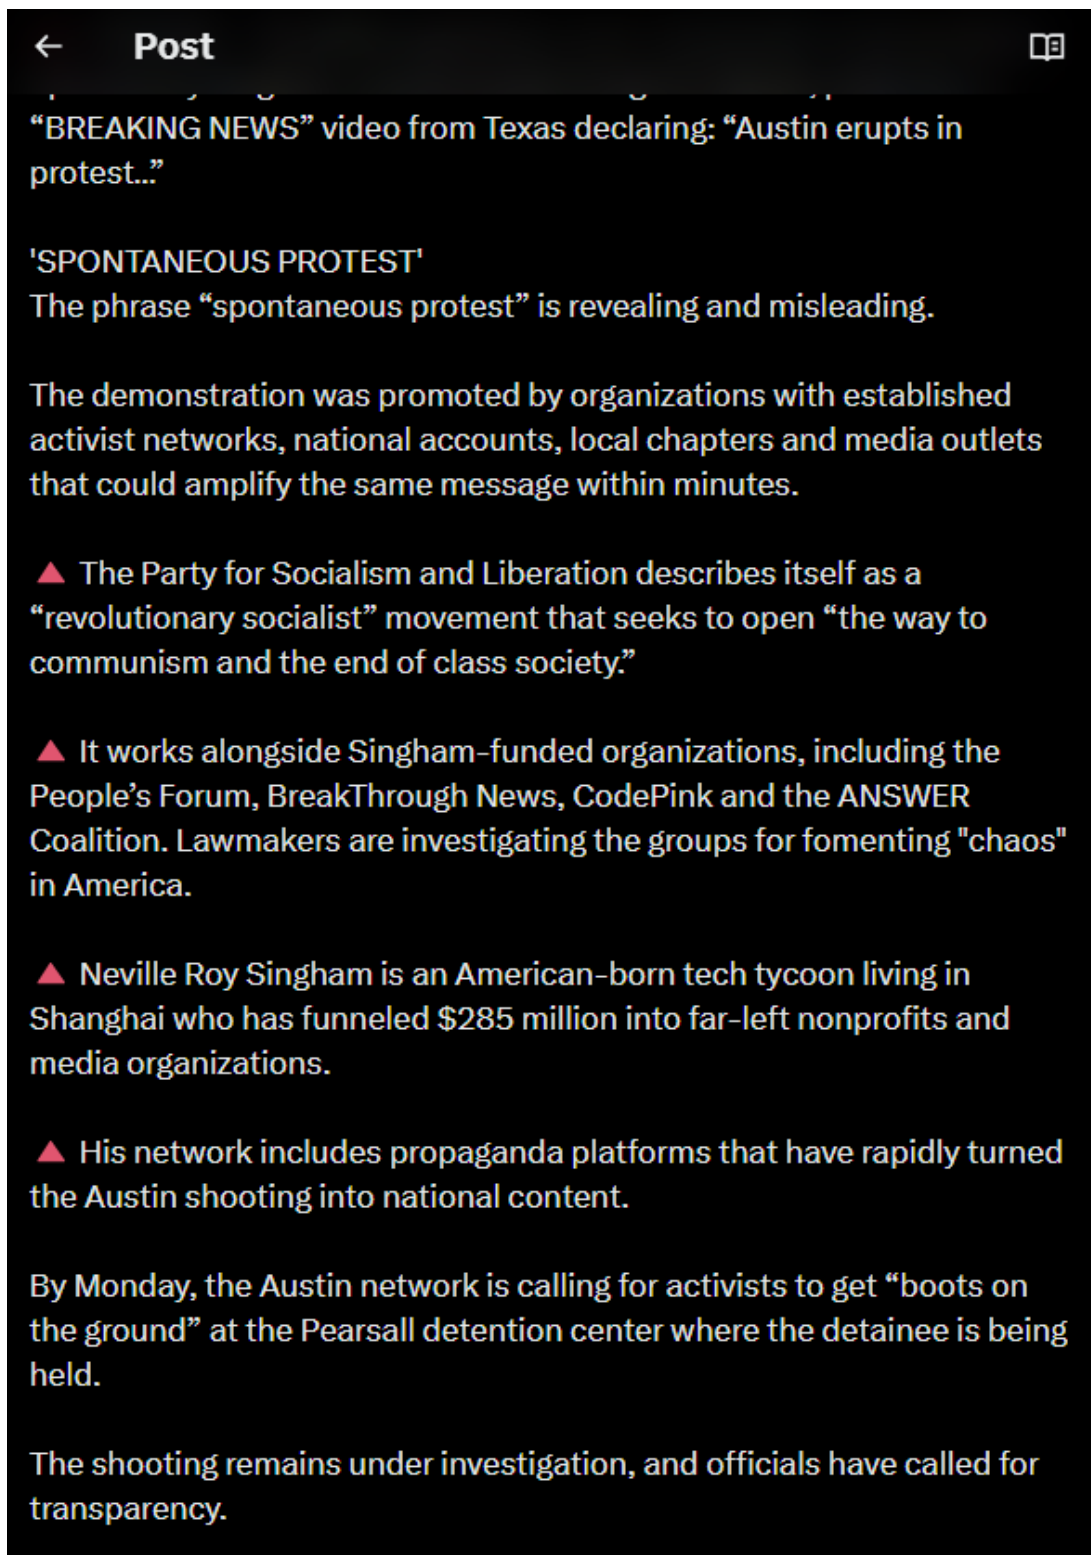

The demonstration was promoted by organizations with established activist networks, national accounts, local chapters and media outlets that could amplify the same message within minutes.

The shooting remains under investigation, and officials have called for transparency.

But our reporting establishes the protests aren't an unplanned outburst. The immediate trigger was the shooting. The organizing infrastructure comes from the communist and socialist protest network that are allegedly fomenting "chaos" on America's streets.

The screenshot shows a social media post with a red background. It contains three main panels:

- Left Panel: A news article snippet with the headline "BREAKING MAN SHOT BY ICE AGENTS IN AUSTIN". Below the headline, it says "ICE agents shot a Venezuelan man in north Austin near the intersection of Research Boulevard and Anderson Square this afternoon." At the bottom of this panel, it says "ICE OUT OF AUSTIN!".
- Middle Panel: A photograph of a blue car with two people in red hooded sweatshirts standing in front of it. The text "ICE SHOTS AN UNARMED CIVILIAN" is at the top. At the bottom, there is a logo for "FRS*O Freedom Road Socialist Organization".
- Right Panel: A red box with the text "EMERGENCY DEMONSTRATION/VIGIL". Below this, it says "Austin DSA unequivocally condemns the ICE shooting of a man in North Austin earlier today. We stand in solidarity with our immigrant neighbors and recall that an injury to one is an injury to all. The situation is still unfolding, however we demand a full, fair, and LOCAL investigation into the event in order to ensure at a minimum that justice is delivered for the victim and their family." At the bottom, it says "Join us at 8121 Research Blvd from 5-8 PM for a spontaneous protest and vigil against yet another instance of ICE and police violence."

Below the panels, there is a red banner with the text "a spontaneous protest" and a white arrow pointing to the right panel.

🚩 JUST IN: Calls are ramping up for the DEPORTATION of Muslim 3rd world migrant Imam Abdulrahman Kattab in Texas, who advocates for TERRORISM and taking over America

He's located RIGHT NEXT to an ARMY TRAINING BASE 🇺🇸

"The victory that is very soon will never come to us until we show the sacrifice."

We need to surge deportation of jihadis who came here to conquer!

They are not compatible with America.

Any foreigner who came here and hid their intentions to conquer non-Muslims needs to be sent back to their country, ASAP.

 BREAKING:  James Talarico's own head pastor just got caught on camera.

 Rev. Jim Rigby — the man who baptized Talarico, married his parents, and whom Talarico calls “my pastor in every sense of the word” — told an undercover reporter:
“If you love humanity and love nature and that’s why you hate religion, then we’re on the same team.”

He said it while preparing to speak at the Freedom From Religion Foundation.

 His church hands new members the Inclusive Bible that strips out “Lord” and “Son of God.” Rigby’s take:

 Rev Babs Miller says, “I don’t have a need for a God and we are not a worshipping church.”

This is Talarico’s spiritual mentor. Texas should know.
