According to information the FBI shared with French authorities, an Iraqi man linked to pro-Iran groups is suspected of having orchestrated a recent wave of attacks in Europe targeting American and Jewish sites, including the March 28 attempted terrorist attack.

The homemade bomb left outside Bank of America's Paris branch, in the city's 8th arrondissement, by French teenagers on the night of March 27, was, in fact, an operation orchestrated by pro-Iran groups. The two minors were caught by a police patrol as they attempted to light an improvised explosive device, which experts described as having "very high power," outside the American bank's Paris office. They said an intermediary had recruited them to light the device in exchange for a few hundred euros, and they were unaware that, in doing so, they were committing a terrorist act.

Street jihad in Paris, Brussels, London & Belfast: Is Europe on the brink of a civil war?

<https://theliberum.com/street-jihad-in-paris-brussels-london-belfast-is-europe-on-the-brink-of-a-civil-war/>

Europe has once again been shaken by violent riots in Brussels, London, Paris, and Belfast among other places in recent weeks. Any pretext is good for riots. A football match, a Palestine demonstration, New Year's Eve, or some party or other. Anything can serve as a spark to set the powder keg ablaze. The scenario is usually identical. A small hardcore of troublemakers provokes riots, after which mobilisation takes place via social media, and many hundreds or thousands of hangers-on, often still children, join in. Is Europe on the brink of a civil war?

The Middle East Media Research Institute (MEMRI) Jihad and Terrorism Threat Monitor (JTMM) project published a new report on October 7, 2026 about an Al-Qaeda supporter's response to U.S. President Donald Trump's approval of the execution of Fort Hood shooter Nidal Hasan by firing squad by suggesting that such an action might lead to the hijacking of U.S. planes and killing of U.S. soldiers. The MEMRI National Security Initiative (NSI) and Cyber & Jihad Lab (CJL) have monitored many jihadi groups and online activists discussing the announcement.

On October 7, a Yemen-based Al-Qaeda supporter published a post on Telegram implying that executing Hasan might lead to hijacking American planes and killing American soldiers. Hasan, an Army major and physician, carried out a mass shooting at Fort Hood in November 2009, killing 13 people and wounding 32 others. Before the attack, Hasan had attended sermons by Yemeni-American Al-Qaeda ideologue Anwar Al-Awlaki and corresponded with him.

Latest SW Port ‘Terrorism-Related Encounters’ Are Off the Charts - The surprisingly positive and important secure border metric nobody — not even the president — is talking about By Andrew R. Arthur on October 5, 2026, Center for Immigration Studies, <https://cis.org/Arthur/Latest-SW-Port-TerrorismRelated-Encounters-Are-Charts>

Here’s a statistic nobody in the media and not even the president himself has mentioned: In the first 11 months of FY 2026, immigration officers at CBP’s Office of Field Operations (OFO) have had more than 11,250 “terrorism-related encounters ... of all nationalities” — aliens and U.S. citizens — at the Southwest border ports of entry. That’s more than twice as many as in FY 2025 (just over 3,700), but more importantly, 100-plus times the Biden-era record (in FY 2021, 103).

The Communist Control Act of 1954 denied the Communist Party the rights of a normal political party. This bill applies those same rules to the DSA.” “Communism has no place in the United States,” he added.

I recently posted a clip about the thousands of Christians who leave the faith to become Muslims, which drew a response that disturbed me almost as much as the loss itself. Most people basically said, “good riddance.” If they were truly Christians, some argued, they would never have left. That response contains a theological truth about being truly born again, but it also carries a dangerous temptation.

A left-wing congressional candidate in Wisconsin has been arrested for hate crimes following an anti-Semitic road rage incident, according to FOX 6 MILWAUKEE, WTMJ-TV, and WDJT.

Matthew Arndt, the Green Party nominee for Wisconsin's sixth congressional district, was arrested at a gas station in the Milwaukee suburb of Mequon following a road rage incident with a 40-year-old man that "included obscene gestures and dangerous driving." Video of the incident shows Arndt shouting "fuck Israel," "free Palestine," and "[t]he whole country's against you, you piece of shit" at the man.

A bystander who filmed the incident believes Arndt's tirade was set off by the other man having a pro-Israel bumper sticker. Arndt was charged with disorderly conduct with a hate crime enhancement.

In a statement, Arndt claimed his insults were directed at Israel, not Jews as a whole, and apologized for his behavior but said "the message stands."

Wisconsin's sixth congressional district is based in Milwaukee's northern suburbs and is currently represented by Republican Glenn Grothman, who was first elected in 2014.

And now we have peace in the Middle East? Performative stunts like this reveal their real objective: the share, the view, the disruption of our day — and our brain’s attention. Since Hamas invaded Israel on Oct. 7, Israel’s enemies have waged a cognitive war over how the nation is perceived. And as polls show public sentiment shifting against Israel, the state is losing that battle for hearts and minds.

NEW: Police found a range of militant leftist material and guns in an Alabama apartment during a probe related to online death threats against ICE, court documents allege.

Three roommates now face federal gun charges, including a Tennessee teen who allegedly ran from home and found community among fellow cop-hating leftists. He was also charged with the anti-ICE threats.

Social media accounts the FBI tied to that suspect (Levi Belcher) suggest he calls himself a "trans white woman" and takes after John Brown.

Students for Justice in Palestine at UVA
Statement on Current Situation in Gaza, Palestine
October 8th, 2023

Over the past two days, many of us have been afraid, worried, and even hopeful for the future of Palestine. Students for Justice in Palestine at UVA unequivocally supports Palestinian liberation and the right of colonized people everywhere to resist the occupation of their land by whatever means they deem necessary. We mourn the loss of human life and hope for long-lasting peace, which cannot be achieved without the firm establishment of equality and justice. In an unprecedented feat for the 21st century, resistance fighters in Gaza broke through the illegitimate border fence, took occupation soldiers hostage, and seized control of several Israeli settlements that are illegal under international law.

While the Israeli government publicly declared war today, the war and genocidal campaign against Palestinians began over 75 years ago. The Nakba started in 1948 with the ethnic cleansing of hundreds of Palestinian villages, forcing 2 million Palestinians into the Gaza Strip and expelling over 700,000 from Palestine entirely. Gaza exists as an open air prison for its residents, many of whom have lived under siege and naval blockade for much of their lives. Israel's 17 year siege of Gaza has denied Palestinians basic human rights including access to food, clean water, medical treatment, and humanitarian aid. The people of Gaza are denied freedom of movement, are under calorie restrictions, and are routinely bombed and brutalized by Israeli forces. This history shows that yesterday's rebellion was not "unprovoked," as many have claimed, but is the consequence of years of mass killings, ethnic cleansing, and oppression from Israel. The quotidian violence of Israeli occupation has left many Palestinians feeling like they have no choice but to die quietly or resist loudly.

Some place the impetus on Palestinians to be the "perfect victims" of their own colonial narrative, only resisting through nonviolent protest and appealing to the moral character of the imperialist nations that fund their colonization. We reject the assumption that oppressed people cannot take their liberation into their own hands or that outside onlookers know better than the subjects of colonial occupation what is necessary to gain their freedom.

The events that took place yesterday are a step towards a free Palestine. They reflect the power and resilience of the Palestinian people in the face of 75 years of continued brutal oppression. The occupation is unsustainable, freedom is not a matter of if, but when. We stand in solidarity with Palestinian resistance fighters and all oppressed people around the world seeking freedom and a better world.

Palestine will be free.
SJP at UVA

I denounce the hateful message of the UVA Students for Justice in Palestine in the strongest terms possible.

JASON MIYARES

"I denounce the hateful message of the UVA Students for Justice in Palestine in the strongest terms possible. You cannot 'mourn the loss of human life' and 'hope for long-lasting peace' and also cheer on the murder, rape, and hostage-taking by Hamas, a terrorist organization that exists for the destruction and murder of Jewish people. Virginia and Charlottesville witnessed firsthand the darkness and evil of antisemitism in 2017. There should be room on our college campuses for free speech and substantive foreign policy discussions, but the hateful message of the Students for Justice in Palestine is exactly the wrong approach."

Al-Qaeda in the Indian Subcontinent's magazine republished a news report on Malcolm X's visit to Gaza in 1964 under the title "You Must Fight America" The report includes his views on U.S. support for Israel and his call for Arabs and Muslims to confront the U.S. Its key points are:

1. The Palestinian cause is connected to American imperialism and Zionism, as well as racial discrimination in the United States and liberation struggles around the world.
2. The United States established Israel and supports it with all its power. Arabs and Muslims must therefore confront the United States without fear or hesitation and state this position clearly at the summit.
3. Refugees should take part in the war of liberation and return to their homeland instead of merely talking about the land taken from them and waiting.
4. Arab unity is the most honorable way to confront their enemies. Once it is achieved, Israel will no longer exist on Arab soil.
5. It is unfortunate that ten million Jews stand against eighty million Arabs while we continue to wait.

Tulsi Gabbard watched the Democratic Party change from the inside... then God became something they wanted out of public life

Tulsi Gabbard discusses what she sees as a major transformation in the Democratic Party's relationship with religion. She recalls joining a party she viewed as welcoming people from different faiths, but argues that over time its leadership became increasingly hostile toward public expressions of religious belief, particularly Christianity and Catholicism.

SHOWDOWN AT THE BORDER: A scene akin to "CHAZ / CHOP" unfolded on the southern border in Lochiel, AZ.

Dozens of activists faced Border Patrol at a protest encampment after contractors felled a cottonwood roughly 250 years old—one of the trees locals call the "Grandmother"—to continue border-wall construction.

Since July 27th, they've occupied a cottonwood tree to shut down construction of the double border wall.

While reporting on the operation, Frontlines manager @BrandonDrey was assaulted by multiple left-wing activists, who broke his Meta glasses.

When our team returned to the car for first aid, two of our tires had been slashed. Activists have openly mocked and boasted about the slashing while threatening Frontlines staff.

Multiple arrests have been made, and the situation is still developing.

Stay tuned for on-the-ground updates.

United Jewish Teachers and close to 15 other orgs warned @NYCMayor and @NYCSchools about potential walkouts with Netanyahu's UN speech. Now students at Fort Hamilton High School are planning a walkout for tomorrow on the anniversary of the death 1200 Jews. The Mayor and the Chancellor need to discourage this type of action. Our schools cannot become a place where celebrating Jewish pogroms is acceptable, especially during the school day when education is supposed to happen.

X Letter to Mayor Mamdani regarding Net...

September 15, 2026

Dear Mayor Mamdani,

We are writing on behalf of education advocates, community organizations and grassroots leaders to share grave concerns regarding public calls for demonstrations surrounding the upcoming visit of Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu during the United Nations General Assembly this September, and the direct impact these calls may have on our public school communities. Whatever one thinks of Netanyahu, when leaders are publicly encouraging protests around a highly charged visit, the City also has a responsibility to anticipate the very real consequences for our school community.

Our concerns are not unfounded. After acknowledging that the NYPD could not execute the ICC arrest warrant against Netanyahu, you began to explicitly encourage public opposition to Netanyahu's presence in New York. When asked about protests surrounding Netanyahu's upcoming visit, you emphasized that protest is a "bedrock" of the city and declared that while previous mayors welcomed the Israeli prime minister, "that welcome ends with me."¹

It has come to our attention that concrete plans for these protests are already circulating. While the right to civic expression and protest are fundamental to New York City, public encouragement of street actions during the school day raises significant operational and safety concerns for our schools. When high-profile political protests coincide with school hours, schools face the immediate risk of student walkouts and disruptions, which presents severe challenges.

The walkouts and protests during the 2023–24 school year severely polarized school environments, creating an atmosphere of hostility and anxiety for many students and educators, particularly Jewish students and staff who felt isolated and unsafe in their own school communities. These walkouts repeatedly compromised basic supervisory protocols, leaving administrators and staff unable to ensure the physical safety or whereabouts of minors once they left school grounds. The widespread disruptions throughout that year also fractured classroom focus, diverted vital administrative resources, and derailed essential academic time.

We urge City Hall and the Department of Education to issue clear, proactive guidance to school administrators, staff, and families reinforcing that instructional hours must remain protected and that any public demonstrations must take place outside of the school day.

Sincerely,
Moshe Sporn, President of the United Jewish Teachers, Bridgebuilders Grassroots Coalition, End Jew Hatred, Ben Nezhberg of Council of Jewish Organizations, Kings Bay Y/JCC Brooklyn, Hannah Senesh Community Day School, Cuny Alliance for Inclusion, Brooklyn and Lower Manhattan Education Alliance, S.A.F.E Campus Inc, and Project Activate.

cc: Chancellor Kamar Samuels

¹ In a video dated July 21, 2026, you stated, "I think one of the bedrocks of our city is protest. It is something that has been a part of what makes our city so special that New Yorkers can express themselves whether they are in support or in opposition, no matter on whatever topic...we are talking about someone who has been charged with crimes against humanity, someone who has visited this city on many an occasion and who has been welcomed by previous mayors. And I want to make it very clear that that welcome ends with me. I will not be welcoming Benjamin Netanyahu or any other war criminals when they come to this city."

 ISRAEL PREPARES FOR POSSIBLE MASS ALIYAH FROM FRANCE

Israel is preparing for the possibility of a significant increase in Jewish immigration from France amid ongoing unrest and concerns within the French Jewish community.

According to i24NEWS, Aliyah and Integration Minister Ofir Sofer told the cabinet that Israel should prepare a plan to absorb a potential large wave of French Jewish immigrants.

Minister Orit Strock also raised concerns about the safety of Jews in France. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu instructed Sofer, Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich and Diaspora Minister Amichai Chikli to prepare a joint plan.

Nearly 4,000 French Jews have reportedly made Aliyah since the beginning of 2026, about 40% more than during the same period last year.

More masked protesters are joining the pro Palestine march in central London, on the anniversary of the day Hamas murdered around 1,200 people.

Police are still making no arrests.

Locals in Gosport were banned from covering their faces. Protesters marching on the anniversary of a terror attack are not.

Why are the police letting this happen?

Is this the “cultural enrichment” they keep telling us about?

x.com/RickyDoggin/st... Something interesting may be happening, though. Perhaps the Muslims and the communists see which way the political winds are blowing in Europe, with AfD about to take power in Germany and Marine Le Pen poised to win in France. The Muslims and communists throughout Europe may think this will be their last chance to terrorize and influence these governments into submission. If the Europeans were smart, they would put down these mobs with the Army and show them that they can't be intimidated by these thugs.
